GOODALE'S CAR KEY TO STATE CASE

Murder Scene—Alan Fraser, Boston American writer, examines matted-down clump of bushes off road near the Carver reservoir where the body of Ruth McGurk was found. Testimony by Wareham police Sgt. Clifton Keyes that he found the matted bushes and auto tracks gives rise to the theory that Miss McGurk may have been slain at this spot. Find Lasell Girl; Flew to See Dad

Missing from her dormitory at Lasell Junior College since last Thursday, Suzanne T. Bladet, 18, of Brookline, was located in San Francisco today by the Boston Evening American. She was found by an American reporter occupying a room at the Drake Wilshire Hotel in the West Coast city, where she arrived last Friday after a trip across the country by air.

The brown-haired freshman daughter of Mrs. Agatha Bladet of University rd. disclosed in a long-distance telephone interview that she is anxious to come home to her mother, but first she has a lifelong desire to fulfill.

Before flying back home, she declared, she is determined to meet her father, a musician in Hollywood, whom she has never seen.

The Hearst newspaper in Los Angeles, the Examiner, was contacted by telephone from Boston, and an editor promised to find Suzanne's father in Hollywood later today and arrange for a reunion of father and child.

Suzanne, whose sudden disappearance prompted a nationwide search, told the reporter, "I am very homesick and lonely and I am coming home just as soon as possible."

"Last Thursday, when I left hurriedly, I was feeling very low. Of course, I knew my studies were not up to par, but there were many other things on my mind."

"However, home problems were not among them, for my family is wonderful to me and I have always been happy with my mother and grandparents."

"I am truly deeply sorry for all the trouble I have caused them. I didn't mean it to happen that way, even if the note I left at home said I might come home again sometime."

"That afternoon, last Thursday, I left the house on University rd., about 4 o'clock and went by taxi to Logan Airport. I left by plane for San Francisco at 6."

"When I had to sign my name on the passenger list, I wrote 'S. Graves.' I knew people would be looking for me and at the time I just wanted to get far away."

"But on the way out West I got to thinking it over, and when I reached San Francisco I decided to use my right name from then on. Just in case of an accident or anything like that, so my folks would be told."

Suzanne said shortly after checking in at the Drake Wilshire with most of her $250 drawn from a Brookline bank still intact, she obtained a job as a hotel waitress. She explained she thought the job would take her mind off her troubles, but instead she found the work distasteful and she began to grow homesick. After two days, she quit the job.

"In the few days I've been out here another matter has been uppermost in my mind," she continued. "I have wanted to see my father ever since I can remember, and I know he is a musician at a studio. He is now about 37. Since he left home when I was a baby, I have only two snapshots to help me imagine what he's like."

"I hope to find him within a couple of days because I want to be back home in Brookline by the end of the week."

"I have met some wonderful people out here. They have helped me along and it was they who insisted I call my mother and let her know where I was."

"I got my mother on the telephone just a few minutes ago and told her I was well and was coming home because I was homesick. "But I also told her definitely I was not going back to school. "If I do any more studying, it will be at home. My folks are all school teachers and tutors and can handle my education, I'm sure."

When Suzanne left home she wrote a note promising her mother, "I will go to church every Sunday. Don't worry about me."

CHINESE ENVOY HERE—Mrs. Kung-Shou Wang, wife of the Chinese consul in Boston, prepares to leave South Station today with Dr. V. K. Fog Shuts Out 100 Air Fares

A caravan of 30 landlocked taxis carried more than 100 persons from Providence and Worcester to Boston today when a heavy fog turned three winged chariots back from Logan Airport and forced them to land in the Rhode Island city.

So dense was the mist the cabs had to proceed at a snail's well-measured pace in tight formation —almost bumper-to-bumper.

The weather outlook for tonight was just as dim, said the weather man. First he predicted a daytime high somewhere in the 70's, but then said the temperature would fall to about 50 with low cloudiness and fog. Tomorrow, he added, there would be occasional showers and not much change in temperature.

Miss Truman Cancels Debut Despite Grandmother's Plea

PITTSBURGH, May 19 (AP)—Margaret Truman said today that against the wishes of her aged and seriously ill grandmother—"who wanted me to go on with it"—she cancelled her concert stage debut scheduled here for tomorrow night.

Miss Truman made the cancellation because of the grave condition of Mrs. Martha E. Truman, 94.

The President's daughter, arriving here from New York, decided to switch from train to plane to rush to Mrs. Truman's bedside at Grandview, Mo.

Miss Truman said her entire tour, which also included concerts in Ohio, Texas and Oklahoma, had not been cancelled. The outcome depends on what happens at Grandview, she said.

Mrs. David L. Lawrence, who, with her husband, the mayor of Pittsburgh, called on Miss Truman on the train, said:

The blond, blue-eyed soprano said she made the decision herself while on the train. Explaining she left New York with the intention of going through with the Pittsburgh concert, but changed her mind after thinking it over all night.

She had talked with President Truman by telephone.

"Dad left the decision up to me," she said. "Grandmother wanted me to go on with it. I tried to go through with it, but I just couldn't."

Miss Truman, wearing a smart navy blue suit, mink scarf and open crown flowered hat, was sad but calm. She appeared pale and under a strain.

President Returns To Mother's Bedside

GRANDVIEW, Mo., May 19 (AP)—President Truman resumed his vigil at the bedside of his gravely ill 94-year-old mother today, somewhat encouraged again by her own report that she was feeling better.

The President drove to Mrs. Martha E. Truman's bungalow home here from Kansas City, 17 miles away, where he spent the night. He left Kansas City at 7:20 a. m.

The elderly Mrs. Truman's struggle for recovery from complications which followed the fracture of her right hip in a fall in mid-February was handicapped by "a very tired and weak heart."

Presidential Press Sec. Ross told a 10 a. m. news conference that "there has been no material change" in Mrs. Truman's condition since last night.

He quoted Brig.-Gen. Wallace H. Graham, the President's personal physician, as saying Mrs. Truman is tired and will not attempt to get out of bed during the day. Mrs. Truman was cheerful and said she still "felt better" than she did last night.

She chatted briefly this morning with her pastor, the Rev. Welborn Bowman of the Grandview Baptist Church. Dr. Joseph W. Greene of Independence, Mo., her own physician, consulted with Gen. Graham again.

Springfield Papers Lose Guild Fight

WASHINGTON, May 19 (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board today ordered that the Springfield unit of the American Newspaper Guild (CIO) be recognized as the collective bargaining agent for editorial workers of the Springfield, Mass., newspapers.

The order, directed to Sherman Bowles and the two publishing companies, also called for offers of reinstatement to three editorial employees and wage increases to two others.

A strike of mechanical and editorial employees last September suspended publication of all four dailies, leaving the city without a newspaper until the Springfield Daily News and Morning Union resumed early this year.

Little was mess officer while a prisoner at Japanese camp. The camp's commander, Capt. Iano Fukuhara, was convicted of atrocities against Allied internees and executed here last Aug. 2.

Four Swear 'Frank' Ruth's Escort; Jury Sees Goodale Auto Photos

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN, MONDAY, MAY 19, 1947

By TOM RILEY and JAMES J. DELANEY

PLYMOUTH, May 19—Photographs of Charles Russell Goodale's automobile—a 1937 Ford club coupe in which the state asserts it will prove that Ruth McGurk rode after she vanished to death from an Onset dance hall last July 27—and the corroborative testimony of four witnesses that police were told Ruth left the dance with Frank, a boy from Onset, provided today's highlights at Goodale's murder trial in Superior Court. The state's star witness today was Mrs. Catherine Casey O'Brien, of Commerceville, one of the three sisters who operate the Lyle Ann Cottage in Onset where Miss McGurk and her two Cambridge girl chums, Ruth Jefferson and Helen J. Leary, stayed on the fateful week-end.

Mrs. O'Brien testified she was present when Wareham police questioned Miss Leary about the youth she had seen Ruth leave he first questioned her about the Cambridge girl's disappearance. Keyes' testimony was corroborated by Wareham Patrolman Thomas J. Reedy, who told Judge Goldberg and the jurors that he was present when Sgt. Keyes questioned Heelen.

Miss Theresa Casey, a sister of Mrs. O'Brien also emphasized that Helen Leary had said Miss McGurk had reported she was leaving the dance with an Onset youth.

Callahan scored heavily when he succeeded in barring the testimony of Melville C. Beaton of Wareham, president of the John Beaton Cranberry Co., Goodale's employer.

Beaton, through whose testimony the State was expected to begin establishing its contention that the defendant had used the name of Frank, said that Goodale worked for him as a general laborer. He was asked what bogs the defendant was working on last July 27. Callahan objected and the court ruled out any answer when the witness said he had no personal knowledge where the defendant was working that day.

It was during the testimony of Sgt. Keyes that Dewing introduced the photographs of Goodale's automobile. The witness did not indicate how suspicion had been directed toward the defendant's coupe, but he testified he found the car Aug. 1, near the Goodale home in Onset.

Keyes had told of taking pictures of scenes near the cranberry bog reservoir in Carver. He said he went to a spot near the Goodale home in Onset where he found the car, "as the result of information he received."

Sgt. Keyes said that in his examination of the car he found that the handle of the right hand side door was inside the glove compartment.

The first photograph of the Goodale auto to be introduced before the photographs of the Goodale car were admitted as State exhibits, the pictures were shown to the defendant, who viewed them with his usual impassive calm, nodding assent to questions of Defense Atty. Matthew King.

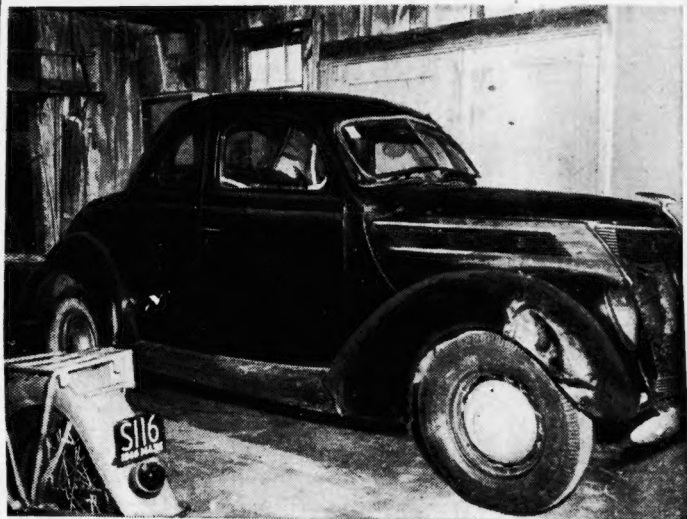

Sgt. Keyes, who continued testimony he had begun on Friday, also identified three photographs of a scene near the cranberry bog reservoir in Carver, off a little-used dirt road. He amplified his earlier description of this location asserting he found bushes and trees here matted down. He added that there was "a disturbance" in the road rut. Asked by the district attorney to explain what he meant by a disturbance, Keyes replied:

"It had the appearance of being brushed as if an object had been drawn through the sand."

Atty. Callahan objected to his reference of an object being dragged through the sand, but Judge Goldberg, after asking how else he could describe it, allowed the answer to stand.

Keyes was followed on the stand by Miss Theresa Casey, of Cambridge, one of the three sisters who operate the Lyle Ann Cottage in Onset where Ruth McGurk and her two girl chums, Helen Leary and Ruth Jefferson, were registered the night Miss McGurk disappeared. Like Sgt. Keyes, she also had been a witness Friday.

Miss Casey testified that Helen Leary had told Sgt. Keyes, in her presence, during the investigation

TODAY'S TESTIMONY

Cop Tells of Searching Auto After Ruth's Body Was Found

PLYMOUTH, May 19—Testimony was resumed today as the Goodale murder trial opened its second week in Superior Court.

Sgt. Keyes

(Direct Examination)

Q—You spoke the other day of taking photographs of a location near the reservoir which came to your attention. Have you those pictures with you. A—I have.

The witness produced three photographs, all of which were marked as state exhibits. Keyes said one photograph represented Wareham st., at a point opposite a curve in the road near the Carver reservoir where Ruth McGurk's body was found Aug. 1, and emphasized a dirt road leading from Wareham st.

Another photograph was of the reservoir and showed a body in the water. The third photograph showed a location near a tree off this dirt road where the witness, in his testimony Friday, said he found bushes and trees matted down. Dewing, when the defense made no objection, marked an X on the chart in front of the jury to denote this spot.

The district attorney then asked the witness:

Q—Have you told us everything you could think of about this spot. A—There were marks on the grass which was matted down. There was a disturbance in the road rut.

Q—What do you mean by a disturbance. A—It had the appearance of being brushed as if an object had been drawn through the sand.

Defense Atty. Callahan asked that the phrase, "As if any object had been drawn through the sand," be stricken from the record. Judge Goldberg said he would allow it to stand and Callahan asked that his objection be saved.

Q—As a result of your investigation from information that you received did you go to a location near the home of the defendant,

A—Yes.
Q—On the street near his home.

A—Yes.
Q—What did you see there. A—I saw a 1937 Ford club coupe.

Q—What day was this. A—On Aug. 2, 1946.

Q—I will show you a photograph of the rear of a car. Can you identify it as a fair representation of the car you saw that day? A—The witness examined the photograph and said it was a fair representation.

Q—I now show you another photograph, showing the registration, No. 528,860, and ask you if it is the same car shown in the other photo. A—It is.

A photograph showing a view of the right hand side door of the Goodale car was admitted as exhibit No. 13. Before it was admitted, however, Defense Atty. King showed the photo to Goodale and, following a brief conference with him, he returned to the defense table.

(Cross-Examination)

Q—Mr. Witness, the photo just offered as an exhibit shows the right hand side door of the car with no inside handle. Is that correct. A—Yes.

Q—Did you find the handle. A—Yes.

Q—Where. A—I found it in the glove compartment.

Q—Did you personally take these pictures. A—Yes, I took some of them.

Q—But not all of them. A—No, only the ones at the reservoir and on Wareham st. and the pictures adjacent to the reservoir.

Q—When were they taken. A—Aug. 1.

Q—Were you alone at the time. A—No. Chief Churchill was there.

Q—What time of day was it.

the Colonial Casino in Onset with. She said police asked Helen if the youth had any identifying marks or scars, and that Helen Leary answered she didn't recall any, "but she said she would know him if she saw him again."

"Helen Leary said that if she saw him again she would know him?"

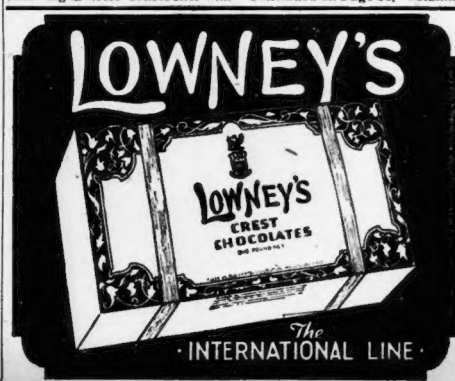

"There is no question about that?" Defense Atty. Herbert F. Callahan asked her.

"No, no question," the witness answered.

Mrs. O'Brien's testimony that Helen Leary would know Ruth McGurk's dance hall companion that night came as a surprise because Miss Leary, when she was on the stand, admitted she had not identified Goodale when she saw him in district court on Aug. 5, and did not tell the grand jury that she could identify him.

Throughout the entire morning, the State kept emphasizing the earlier testimony given by Ruth Jefferson that Ruth McGurk had insisted when she left the dance hall that she was going "out with Frank, a boy from Onset."

Wareham Police Sgt. Clifton Keyes testified that Helen Leary told him Miss McGurk's companion was "a boy from Onset," when

Long Asks All Pay Minimum Tax

Tax Comr. Henry F. Long proposed today a minimum state income tax payment of one or two dollars as a tax on the right to have income, under the state income tax law.

Long appeared in favor of Gov. Bradford's $59,000,000 taxation program proposal to increase the basic rate on state income taxes from 1½ per cent to 3.

Long said the increased rate would bring $4,700,000 in additional revenue on individual tax returns. Total revenue from income taxes on individuals and businesses was $27,237,000 last year, he told the legislative committee on taxation.

Of that amount, Long said, $4,235,000 represented the return from the 1½ per cent tax on individuals.

Less than 48 hours after she had left her baby, Mrs. Sarah Clark Lynch, wife of Sgt. Edward J. Lynch, appeared at Medford police station and sobbed out her story of the abandonment, saying she had done it "so little Joyce could get a good home."

Tearfully she related how her three-year marriage, which resulted from a wartime romance beginning when Lynch was in training at Littleton, N. C. her home town, became wrecked, and how Baby Joyce was having a rough time of it. Sgt. Lynch's home was in Stickney ave., Somerville, at that time.

"We took the bus to New York Friday," she said. "Why I don't know but, when we reached there, I just walked around and left Joyce on the first doorstep I came to. I don't remember where it was or anything else. I was so upset I walked around the streets for several hours and finally took the bus back early yesterday morning."

"All the way back I kept thinking about Joyce, so decided to give myself up to police."

The little blonde-haired girl was found by New York police, who also picked up several pieces of torn paper near the baby. By putting them together, they learned that the "Mystery Girl" lived in Somerville.

The Somerville police search led to the Stickney st. home of Miss Catherine Linehan, 75, who had adopted Sgt. Lynch, now stationed at Scott Field, Ill., several years ago.

She said that she hadn't seen her husband for more than a year and was only receiving the regular Army allotment from him, supplemented by no other funds.

Detectives said Miss Farnell told them she had stabbed herself after an argument with her fiancé about parental objections to their marriage. They did not identify the fiancé.

Police quoted her parents as saying they heard a scream and ran into the kitchen to find her wounded and a with a knife in her hand. Mrs. Farnell would say only that "it was an accident," police said.

3 Newspapermen Freed in Contempt

WASHINGTON, May 19 (INS)—The Supreme Court today set aside the contempt convictions of three Corpus Christi, Tex., newspapermen for editorial criticism of a Nueces County judge.

In a six to three decision the court found Conway C. Craif, publisher; Bob McCracken, managing editor and Tom Mulvany, reporter of the Caller and Times, not guilty of overstepping the bounds of fair newspaper comment on a court action.

The editorial matter in issue assailed Judge Joe D. Browning for his handling of a case involving the eviction of a war veteran from his place of business.

Court Frees 3 Of 31 on Trial For Lynching

GREENVILLE, S. C., May 19 (AP)—The defense rested today in the trial of 28 white men accused of lynching a South Carolina Negro, without offering any witnesses in its behalf.

The climax to the week-long trial came a few minutes after Judge J. Robert Martin, Jr., directed acquittal of three of the original 31 defendants, and gave acquittal on two of four counts to seven others.

As the defense rested Judge Martin recessed court for the second time in twenty minutes. Earlier he had halted proceedings after announcing directed verdicts for 10 of the defendants.

Defense arguments will begin tomorrow.

Missing Wife Returns Home

Object of a wide search by Cambridge and MDC police, Mrs. Florence Walton, 23-year-old expectant mother, who was reported missing by her GI student husband, returned to her home at noon today, but refused to say where she had been.

Robert Walton, 25, ex-AAF bombardier and now a sophomore at M. I. T., reported to police early today his wife had left their apartment in the Westgate housing project near the institute in Cambridge when he returned from visiting with friends shortly after midnight.

He said that earlier his wife, an ex-Army nurse, had told him she might go for a walk and he expressed some concern she might have been taken ill. The couple who met in Hawaii while in service have been married a year and expect their first child late in July.

Councilor Kelly Files Court Plea

Atty. Timothy J. Murphy, counsel for City Council President John B. Kelly, filed a bill of particulars in Suffolk Superior Court today as indictments charging the Dorchester councilor with requesting and accepting gratuities and soliciting gifts as a city official.

Murphy also filed a claim of exceptions from the denial last week by Judge Brogna of a plea to quash the two indictments. Judge Brogna quashed a third indictment, charging attempted larceny.

The six-page motion for particulars asked that the details of the alleged crimes be set forth with more minuteness.

Hahesy was arrested following the outbreak of five fires in the past three weeks in a barn adjoining the home. Over 70 inmates of the home, 28 of them women, were endangered. Capt. John J. Killoury told the court. The latest fire was put out yesterday.

Vermont Sheriff Organizes New Paula Welden Search

BENNINGTON, Vt., May 19—Ordered by Gov. Ernest W. Gibson after a conference with State officials, a new and more systematic search was launched today for Paula Welden, 18, Bennington College sophomore who mysteriously vanished last Dec. 1.

Sheriff John J. Maloney, directing the search, interviewed college officials, classmates of the missing girl and college employees before thorough scrutiny of buildings and woodlands in the immediate vicinity of the campus began.

The sheriff disclosed he had had a long conference with Paula's father, W. Archibald Welden, of Stamford, Ct., who arrived here Saturday with two special investigators too late to attend the Governor's conference.

Welden went to the college, however, and conferred with Frank Tschorn, superintendent of buildings, and several college officials.

Maloney assured Welden the local area would be fully covered during the new quest, as well as the heavily-wooded Glastonbury Mountain section. It was on the long trail winding over the mountain for more than 10 miles that Paula was last seen on the afternoon she walked away from the college campus.

The sheriff, an Army veteran of the ETO, said he planned to organize a posse of experienced woodsmen and trappers to lead the search in the Mt. Glastonbury area. The hunt will be concentrated on Bald Mountain, just west of the Long Trail, and will be conducted next Saturday and Sunday.

The theory of most experts who have worked on the baffling case, according to Sheriff Maloney, is that Paula may have attempted to take a short cut back from Long Trail to the college, where she was scheduled to wait on table at supper. A short cut, Maloney pointed out, would have led her to attempt to negotiate Bald Mountain.

"I don't want the public to have any idea this new search will be carried on like a show or in haphazard fashion," Maloney asserted. "I plan to enlist 30 expert woodsmen, trappers and fern pickers, who know every inch of the terrain and the dense mountain woodlands.

"I do not expect to accomplish much before Thursday, because it will take until then to get this new investigation completely organized. I will be aided in this work by Chief Game Warden Jesse Watson of Bennington County."

Paula's father appeared greatly encouraged following his conference with Supt. Tschorn.

"I went over various maps with Supt. Tschorn and noted the areas about the school which I believe were thoroughly checked before and which there would be no need of going over again," Welden said.

"I am convinced if she is in this area it will be on Bald mountain her body will be found."

This indicated the distraught father was no longer hopeful his daughter would be found alive.

Ensign's Two Wives Ignore Each Other

The two wives of a Navy ensign introduced for the first time by Judge Barron, politely ignored each other today when they met again in the courtroom of Municipal Chief Justice Davis B. Keniston.

At request of defense counsel, Judge Keniston continued for two weeks the case of Ensign Richard H. Hoster, 26, Quincy, charged with polygamy, and Mrs. Audrey Johnston Hoster, Portland, Me., wife No. 2, defendant with Hoster on a morals charge.

Hoster, free in $5000 bail imposed last Thursday, was arrested in a Back Bay hotel with his second wife on complaint of wife No. 1, Mrs. Joan Hoster, Herbert rd., Quincy, mother of his 14-month-old son. The second Mrs. Hoster was released on her personal recognizance.

Police said Hoster used a four-day leave from his Portland station to fly to Mexico to obtain a divorce from the first Mrs. Hoster, while she was expecting him at home to straighten out his failure to provide for her and the baby.

Defense counsel said he wanted time to secure a copy of the divorce papers and to obtain information from a Texas attorney who advised Hoster.

Family Camps in Own Yard as Tenants Stay

A Peabody family of 10, including five children, was living in a tent today after being evicted from their rented apartment and barred from occupying the new house they purchased, when the present tenants were granted extension of an eviction order.

Included in the family group are a sick child and an invalid aunt.

They are Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Guzowski and their three children, Francis, 7, Ronald, 6, who has a heart ailment, and Robert, 5. Mrs. Guzowski's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Thain; her brother, Andrew, Jr.; her sister and the latter's husband and two children, and the invalid aunt, Elizabeth McNutt.

Guzowski is disabled from a railroad accident, which left him with an artificial knee cap.

The family was evicted last Saturday from their home in Center st., Peabody.

Anticipating their eviction, the Guzowskis purchased a three-family house in Lowell st., Peabody, last September. Subsequently, two of the families occupying the house were ordered to move by April 1 to make room for the new owners.

But last month the tenants appealed to the Office of Temporary Control and were given an extension.

The Guzowskis purchased a 20x40-foot tent, and set it up in the back yard of the Lowell st. house, where they are getting along in pioneer fashion pending further hearing on the eviction order Saturday.

Good Samaritan Hospital officials declined to discuss the death other than to confirm it. It was reported Mrs. Oser underwent surgery several days ago. Her daughter, Anita, 23, and her son, Peter Max Oser, both students at Pomona College, were at her bedside when she died.

She was the daughter of the late Harold F. McCormick and the late Edith Rockefeller McCormick, thus heiress to the Rockefeller oil fortune on her mother's side and to the Harvester Co. wealth amassed by her paternal grandfather, Cyrus H. McCormick, inventor of the reaper.

Mrs. Julius Y. Talmadge, DAR president-general, said a prime objective of the convention would be to outline sweeping plans to combat the spread of Communism and wage war on all subversive activities.

Liner America Spots Mine Off Ireland

CORK, Eire, May 19 (AP)—Radio reports from the transatlantic liner America, carrying nearly 1600 passengers and crew members to New York, said today the ship sighted a floating mine when outward bound from Cork harbor.

As a result, an Eire torpedo boat searched the area, located two stray mines and exploded them with gunfire. The mines were found near the spot where the liner Lusitania was sunk by a German torpedo 32 years ago.

Catholic Foresters Open Convention

The Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters opened its 67th annual convention at the New Ocean House, Swampscott, today by presenting Archbishop Cushing with a substantial check for his charity fund.

An address of godspeed in their work was given 1500 members of the order as they prepared for a two-day session which will be culminated by installation of officers tomorrow.

Principal speaker on lay matters today was High Chief Ranger Andrew J. Garrison, Jamaica Plain, who criticized labor legislation now in the process of enactment by Congress, predicting it would fail to bring labor and management any closer together. He also opposed planned parenthood, which he termed "vicious birth control."

5 Newtonville Boys Take Car, Go West

PHILADELPHIA, May 19 (AP)—Spring fever wanderlust—and a heap of trouble—caught up here with five Newtonville, Mass., schoolboys. Waiting for their parents, one forecast gloomily: "I'll get the whaling of my life."

The quintet, four of them 15 and the other 12 years old, mapped a transcontinental joy-ride to Oregon, where one has a married sister, pooled $12 and selected a brand-new $3000 car owned by William A. Miller of Brighton, Mass., they told police.

Yesterday the 20-cent toll to cross the Delaware river bridge from Camden to Philadelphia shrank their capital to less than $4. A Philadelphia police patrol, suspecting their youth, took them in custody.

Kennedy Says Only Vets Can Hurry Housing

Congressman John F. Kennedy sounded a call today for the nation's veterans to rally and press for a national housing program.

The Navy veteran, son of former Ambassador and Mrs. Joseph B. Kennedy, urged veterans in every state to bombard their congressmen with mail demanding passage of the Taft-Ellender-Wagner bill for government sponsorship of low-cost housing.

"If veterans don't pull together, we won't get any kind of a housing bill—and no homes," he warned.

Kennedy stated that demands for housing by newly married couples, together with the prewar backlog of housing orders, had produced the present critical situation. "And my district is the worst district in the country in that regard. We need new homes badly," he added.

Britain to Build Atom Power Plant

LONDON, May 19 (AP)—Britain's first atomic power station, a huge plant designed to produce electricity from uranium, is to be built at Drigg in Cumberland, the Daily Express said today in a story by Science Editor Chapman Pincher.

Several uranium engines will be set up, the article said, and "plans to have the first engine working within five years have been drawn by the atomic energy council and approved by the cabinet. It is estimated to cost £7,000,000 ($28,000,000)."

Pincher's article continued: "This engine is expected to have a full production output of 75,000 kilowatts, enough to supply light and power to a city of 855,000 people."

Girl Refuses to Prosecute Harvard Student in Attack

Miss Wanda Wisckowski of Strathmore rd., Brighton, a beautician, who sicked the police on a husky Harvard Business School student last night for allegedly manhandling her in his Morris Hall quarters, called it off in Brighton District Court today.

Although both her eyes were blackened, the right one especially, the 23-year-old hair dressing parlor manager was quoted by police as having told them she did not want to embarrass her family or do anything which might have an adverse effect on the Harvard youth's career.

She declined to sign a complaint and the student, who was out on bail, was released after a conference in the clerk's office, where he had an attorney present.

Police took him into custody after Miss Wisckowski said he had induced her, while on the way to a dance with him, to stop at Morris Hall so he could get a coat, and there he tried to force attention on her.

Gain-Abel Slayer Pleads Innocent

LEWISTON, Me., May 19 (AP) — A plea of innocent was entered for Edward Chadburn, 18, today when the youth was arraigned in municipal court on a murder charge in the lead pipe slaying of his half-brother, Bertrand L. Leclair.

Chadburn stood silent and expressionless as his counsel entered the plea and waived hearing. He was held without bail for the grand jury in June.

PIGGY BANK PLUS

FRANKLIN SQUARE, N. Y., May 19 (AP)—The small fry here soon will get a chance to step into the adult's world of business and banking.

Children's banking facilities, with a counter low enough so they can see what goes on, will be a feature of the expansion program of the Franklin Square National Bank, says the bank's annual report. The kids will have special banking hours during the school season, from 3:30 to 5 p. m. each Friday.

"We're not aiming to supplant the piggy bank," President Arthur T. Roth said, "just to supplement it."

HERE'S HOW! Like thousands of others, your skin can be soft, smooth, loveable with a Skin Doctor's prescription, the double Vidern Treatment. Consisting of 2 formulas, the first, Vidern Skin Cleanser, penetrates and acts as an antiseptic on your pores. The second, Vidern Fortified Medicated Skin Cream, leaves an almost invisible protective covering on your skin. Both work gently, thoroughly, bringing undreamed of beauty to you! Use the double Vidern treatment daily until your skin is smoother and clearer... then only once a week to remove stale make-up and dirt specks. This helps prevent blackheads as well as externally caused skin miseries and pimples.

GUARANTEED! Try the double Vidern treatment only 1 week. If your skin does not show an amazing improvement, your money will be instantly refunded! The sooner you begin, the sooner skin loveliness is yours.

PIGGY BANK PLUS

FRANKLIN SQUARE, N. Y., May 19 (AP)—The small fry here soon will get a chance to step into the adult's world of business and banking.

"Children's banking facilities, with a counter low enough so they can see what goes on, will be a feature of the expansion program of the Franklin Square National Bank, says the bank's annual report. The kids will have special banking hours during the school season, from 3:30 to 5 p. m. each Friday.

"We're not aiming to supplant the piggy bank," President Arthur T. Roth said, "just to supplement it."

U. S. to Guard Middle East For British

LONDON, May 19 (AP)—Britain was declared today to be settling the stage for handing military responsibility in the Mediterranean and Middle East over to the United States and withdrawing empire defenses to East Africa.

Informants said the proposed setup implied that defense of the Mediterranean and the Suez Canal in particular would become a United States responsibility.

The move will not mean abandonment of Britain's economic and political interests in the Middle East, however, these sources said, recalling Foreign Sec. Bevin's statement to the House of Commons last Friday, in which he stated:

"If those interests were lost to us, the effect on life in this country would be a considerable reduction in the standard of living."

Quincy Man Killed In 'Death Alley'

Quincy's Sea st. — known as "Death Alley" because of numerous motor accidents—claimed the life of one of its own residents today when Frank A. Turner, 23, was killed as the car he was riding in swerved into a tree.

Seriously injured was Russell O'Brien, another Sea st. resident, in the car with Turner. Both were taken to Quincy City Hospital where Turner died of internal injuries shortly after arrival. O'Brien was found to have suffered rib fractures.

Police were unable to determine which of the two drove the car. They theorized a tire blowout caused the accident.

Big Surplus Stirs Fight on Sugar Control

By WILLIAM P. FLYTHE

Boston American Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, May 19—Immediate repeal of sugar control will be demanded by a congressional group unless the Agriculture Dept. releases the surplus to needy housewives.

Sen. McCarthy, Wisconsin Republican, said so many protests are being received from every section of the country, such action has been decided upon.

He said that under new regulations the home user will be "cheated" out of canning sugar and sustain a large economic loss.

"The Agriculture Dept. is trying to make the people believe there is a scarcity when there is a large surplus," he declared.

"They have more sugar than they know what to do with. It is being refined in Cuba faster than they can bring it in. It is utterly absurd to say prices will skyrocket if controls are lifted.

"They are permitting industrial users to stock up, but are denying housewives the same privilege at the beginning of the canning season when it is needed most."

The senator, who led the fight to obtain an increase of 10 pounds of sugar for each individual, pointed out that under new regulations adopted by the Agriculture Dept. even this quota will be withheld.

He said he had canvassed the situation and is sure there are enough votes to repeal the act.

Find Mice Made Susceptible To Pneumonia by Certain Food

CHICAGO, May 19 (AP)—Certain foods have been found to contain a substance which increases the susceptibility of mice to pneumonia infection, two biochemists reported today, but they declared it is not as yet known whether similar relationships between diet and disease may apply to man.

Drs. George H. Hitchings and Elvira A. Falco of the Wellcome Research Laboratories, Tuckahoe, N. Y., said the pneumonia susceptibility factor is present in peanuts, oats, wheat bran and wheat germ.

They declared in a report prepared for the opening of the 34th

FBI Hides Role Of Blonde in Treason Trial

Federal sleuths maintained a tight-lipped silence today over the mysterious arrival here from Europe of an attractive blonde and her four children in connection with the coming treason trial of Douglas Chandler, due to start at the Federal Building June 2.

Mrs. Margaret Sittler, 29, described as a native of London who lived during the war in Munich, arrived by air from Denmark with her children, Carl, 6; Minnie, 5; Wolff, 4 and Andrea, 2.

She is traveling on military orders her destination Jefferson ave., Columbus, O., where her husband is said to reside. It was reported he was waiting in New York city to greet her.

When she told the pilot of the plane about her military orders, he telephoned the FBI, which whisked mother and children to their downtown office for questioning.

Several hours later they were put aboard a plane for New York and it was believed they completed their trip to Columbus.

Mrs. Sittler was instructed not to talk to newsmen, and federal agents declined to tell the reason for her trip here. It was learned, however, that she will be a witness at the Chandler trial, one of a dozen witnesses being flown here

Is your husband a good party line neighbor?

TRY THIS FRIENDLY QUIZ IN YOUR FAMILY

1. He must reach his boss before the latter leaves on a night train. It's almost train time now — and another party has the line. Does he . . .

- (a) Break into a friendly conversation — claiming that he has to make an important call right away?
- (b) Politely ask for the line for a few minutes — explaining he'll be glad to return the favor some day?

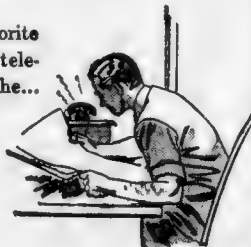

2. He's arranging a farewell party for the retiring club president. There are dozens of calls to make. Does he . . .

- (a) Tie up the line by making one call right after another?
- (b) Allow a little time between his calls — in order to let others use the line?

3. He's intently reading his favorite newspaper columnist, when the telephone across the room rings. Does he . . .

- (a) Let it ring while he finishes the column?
- (b) Answer as promptly as possible — realizing how annoying this neglected ring can be to others who are sharing the line?

Answer B to each question is the correct one. In such ways, husbands, wives, every one will be acting as good party line neighbors.

P.S. As more new equipment is obtained in the future, we will gradually be able to provide individual telephone service to all who want it. Meantime, by putting people on party lines, we are able to give service to many who otherwise couldn't have had it for some time.

11 Flee Two Greater Hub House Fires

Two two-alarm fires, one in Brighton and the other in Arlington, were fought by firemen early today in heavy fog, drove 11 persons to the street, including seven children, and caused total damage of $5500.

The more serious blaze, which police and fire officials are investigating in the belief it was incendiary, was in the rear porch and wall of a two-story wooden dwelling at Fordham st., and Rawson rd., Arlington.

It was discovered by Eugene Turnbull, who with his wife and two children occupied the first floor apartment. Awakened by the crackling of flames, Turnbull and his wife carried Richard, 3, and Deborah, 5, to safety, and gave the alarm.

Driven from the upper apartment were Mr. and Mrs. Missak Berberian and their five children: Louise, 16; Rose, 15; George, 12; Mary, 9 and Diana, 3. Louise carried out Diana, while the parents assisted the others to the street.

The flames swept the entire rear of the house, but firemen prevented them from penetrating to the two apartments. Fire officials reported to police that on arrival a quantity of burning rags and waste paper had been found piled against a trellis on the ground floor porch. Damage was estimated at $2500.

Fire due to defective wiring caused $3000 damage to a one-story brick building in Tremont st., Oak sq., Brighton.

British Line Shifts From American Planes

ROME, May 19 (AP)—British European Airways today converted its Mediterranean line from American to British planes. It will fly Vickers Vikings, carrying 24 passengers, instead of Dakotas (Douglas DC-3s).

The line said the Dakotas would be put on internal routes in Britain, replacing prewar British craft.

Actress Says Goelet Heir Courted Her as Single Man

NEW YORK, May 19 (INS)—Fay Dunn, 26-year-old actress-writer named as a co-respondent by Mrs. Ogden Goelet in her divorce action against her socialite husband told an exclusive interview that Goelet, heir to a $70,000,000 fortune, was introduced to her as "Bob Gordon."

Miss Dunn, one of two women named as co-respondents, said in the explanation that the great disillusionment came when, woman-like, she examined some leases Goelet left in her apartment.

When she questioned him about his real identity, and learned he was married, she told him she "didn't want to get involved with a married man."

About a month later, the pretty actress recounted, she had an unusual meeting with Mrs. Goelet, whom she described as a "sweet and sincere person."

It seems that Goelet called his wife over to Miss Dunn's apart-ment, because he thought the two girls ought to meet. The three of them talked until five in the morning.

Miss Dunn continued: "The meeting was unique. She told me that Ogden was in love with me and she asked me what I wanted out of life. I told her I wanted to act and write and wasn't interested in any romance with a married man."

Later, she asserted, Goelet told her he had settled things with his wife—including the financial angle—and proposed marriage, but she refused.

Q—Were other pictures taken the next day, A—Yes.

Q—Who developed and printed these photographs, A—I did in the Wareham Town Hall.

Q—You say you examined the car and searched it. A—Yes.

Q—What did you find on your search. A—I discovered the handle of the right-hand side door in the glove compartment. I was attempting to find out who the owner of the car was. I also found some paper matches, two garage tickets and a used spark plug.

Q—How long did you stay there. A—About 10 minutes.

Q—Didn't you go back later that afternoon and make a further search of the car. A—No, not that I recall.

Q—Didn't you go back to the car along with your son, Dana, about 4 o'clock in the afternoon and examine the car for the second time. A—No, I did not.

Q—On your first visit to the car, where were the girls when you examined the car. A—In the police cruiser.

Q—Was it raining quite hard. A—It was raining, but not hard.

Q—Did you take the photographs that were made on August 14, which have been offered here this morning as exhibits. A—No, but I learned later who did. (These pictures were of the Goodale car and also include the side door and handle.)

Q—When did you first see Charles Goodale after visiting the car. A—It was either Aug. 2 or 3 at the Wareham police station.

Q—What time was it. A—It was in the afternoon. I just happened to drop in to the station.

Q—Don't you know for a fact that Goodale went to the station in response to word left at his home that he was wanted at the station? A—No, I didn't.

Q—Was he questioned at the station on Friday? A—I believe so. I wasn't there.

Q—Did you talk to Goodale at the station that day? A—If I did it was only to pass the time of day.

Q—Was he under arrest then. A—Not to my knowledge.

Q—Did you hear Goodale say at the station that he wanted to see somebody. A—No, I didn't hear him say that.

Q—Don't you know that he was asked to see Sgt. Gallen. A—No, sir. I don't recall that being said.

Q—When did you see Goodale the next time. A—Sunday evening at police station.

Q—Tell us what time. A—I don't know exactly, but Lt. Dempsey and Sullivan brought him in and asked that he be detained and go to court the next morning.

Q—Did he go to court next day. A—I don't think so.

Q—Didn't you know that he was held in the station from Sunday night until Thursday before being brought into court. A—I know he went to court Thursday.

Q—Did you know that he was held from Thursday until Sunday evening before even being arrested? A—No.

Q—You know he was held from Sunday to Thursday. A—I understand he was to be arraigned on Monday but that it was postponed until Thursday.

Q—Were you at Wareham when he was arraigned Thursday. A—I was not.

Q—He was not arraigned on a complaint of murder at that time. A—May I tell you what I do not know of my own knowledge but what I understand in the only way I can tell it. A—I'm sorry, sergeant, I will have to conduct this examination in my own way.

Q—You know that he wasn't arraigned on Thursday on the complaint that he murdered Ruth McGurk. A—I do not know of my own knowledge, I understand so.

Q—You know he was admitted to bail. A—I recall he was admitted to bail.

Q—When did you see Goodale after Thursday—that would be Aug. 8—when did you next see him. A (the witness bowed his head and pondered for more than a minute)—I do not recall.

Q—Do you recall when he was next in the Wareham police station after he was admitted to bail, Aug. 8. A—No, I don't.

Q—Did you see him in the Wareham police station after that. A—I think I did see him once after that.

Q—When was that once. A (bows head and ponders again)—I think I saw him the night he was detained—that time when he was detained. Atty. King called Atty. Callahan into conference and they talked head to head across the rail for a few minutes.

Q—You can't give us any idea of that date. A—No, I can't.

Q—Do you know what date he was arraigned in the Wareham District Court. A—No, I can't say.

Q—You were active, sergeant, during the investigation of this case. A—At the first of it, I was.

Q—If I told you that Goodale was brought into the Wareham police station on Aug. 17 would that refresh your recollection. A (ponders)—I do not believe it would.

Q—Don't you recall that he was booked as a suspicious person on Aug. 17. A—It was about that time, I would not say the exact date.

Q—And he was arraigned in the Wareham District Court on Aug. 17. A—I don't recall.

Q—Callahan and Atty. Joseph M. McDonough of the defense battery here went into a conference discussing notes made by McDonough.

Q—Now, sergeant, let us go back a moment to the reservoir. Who was there on the occasion you made these observations that you testify to here. A—Officer Bourne.

Q—When you went there Aug. 1, you carried your camera along. A—I did.

Q—You took pictures; how many pictures did you take Aug. 1. A—Four.

Q—Who was present when you took those pictures. A—Officer Bourne, Chief A. Tremain Smith of Carver, Chief Churchill, Lts. Sullivan, Sullivan and others.

Q—Where did you take them. A—On the stone embankment between the road and the reservoir.

Q—Where were you standing when you took it. A—On the bank facing the reservoir.

Q—On the side of Wareham road, on the embankment, adjacent to the reservoir. That's right, isn't it. A—That's right.

Q—How far away would you say that the body was from where you were. A—About 30-35 feet.

Q—Was the body lying sideways to Wareham road. A—It was for a time.

Q—The body kept moving around. A—Yes, when I first saw the body the head was pointing toward Route 28, on the easterly side of the reservoir. When I later observed it another time the head was toward the south—the body was north and south.

Q—At some time while you were there at the reservoir did you see some officers go out in a boat. A—Yes, Chief Smith and Sgt. Gallen.

Q—I show you a picture showing a body, with a boat with two officers in it. Is that a fair representation of the boat the chief and sergeant were in. A—It is—that's right.

Callahan had the picture marked for identification.

Q—I show you a picture. Is that a fair representation of the body as you saw it on that day. A—It is at one time.

Callahan offered both pictures to be marked for identification and then showed them to the jury.

Q—There was a matter that you described at 12 o'clock on Friday, something about an indentation of two indentations. Will you describe those now. A—The indentations were in the ground there 10 inches apart. They were two inches long, one-half inch wide and one-half inch deep.

Q—Have you a picture of them. A—The place appears in one of those three pictures you have—indicating the picture—but you cannot see the marks in it.

Q—Was not that picture taken for the express purpose of showing the marks. A—A picture was taken to show the marks, but they do not show in the picture.

Q—Yet that picture was taken for the purpose of showing those marks. A—That is right.

Q—You are a Wareham police officer. A—That is right.

Q—This reservoir is in Carver. A—That is right.

You have no occasion to go to it in the course of your duties. A—Yes, I did have.

Q—Outside of the investigation of this case. A—That's right.

Q—Tell us is that road, you have described here, off the Wareham road, a rendezvous for petting parties.

Dewing—I object.

Judge Goldberg—I exclude it.

Callahan—Exception.

Q—When you were there Aug. 1 and 2 did you find evidence the vicinity there was used by petting parties. A—No.

Callahan—That's all.

Dewing took the witness in redirect examination.

Q—Will you describe those marks again you found in the road—how far apart were they. A—They were about 10 inches apart.

Q—Describe them further. A—They were two inches long, one-half inch wide and one-half inch deep.

Q—What did they have the appearance of.

Callahan—I object.

Judge Goldberg—That calls for a conclusion on the part of the witness. I exclude it.

Q—How long have you been in the Wareham police—strike that out—you have done some specializing in photography. A—Yes, I have.

Q—How long have you been taking, developing and printing pictures. A—Five years.

Q—Did you make an effort to develop and print those marks you describe that were 8-10 inches apart. A—I did.

Q—Can you explain the results of the two photos.

Callahan objected. Judge Goldberg asked why Dewing did not show the results he wanted. Dewing stated he wanted to show why the marks did not show. Judge Goldberg said in the light of the Callahan cross-examination with respect to the marks he would allow Dewing to show what he wanted in connection with the pictures and the marks. The evidence line was admitted with Callahan's exception saved.

Q—These pictures do not show the marks. A—No.

Q—Do any of the pictures you have taken show the marks. A—No, at the distance I stood from the object my camera was not properly focused.

Dewing offered the pictures as exhibits. Callahan objected.

JUDGE GOLDBERG—I do not see the value of the admission of the photograph as bearing on the showing of the marks or the value of your objections, Mr. Callahan, that they stay out. They do not show the marks.

DEWING—I offered them as part of the case so that the jury can have everything before it and there would be no comment made at a later date on the fact that they were not offered in evidence.

JUDGE GOLDBERG TO SGT. KEYES—Sergeant, you testify that the marks are not showing in this photograph because your camera was not in proper focus. A—That is right.

Q (by Dewing)—What kind of photo did you get—blurred. A—Yes.

JUDGE GOLDBERG—I do not see that they have any value, but they can go in.

Q—Were you present at any time when Goodale was arraigned on any charge at all. A—No.

DEWING—That's all.

Re-direct Examination

Q—Regarding your redirect examination answers that you specialize in photography in the police department in addition to other photographic lines, you also took courses in criminal investigation? A—Yes.

CALLAHAN—That's all.

Dewing informed the court that in view of certain testimony brought out Friday he felt it necessary to recall Miss Casey, proprietor of the Onset guest house where Ruth McGurk vacationed, to the stand.

MISS THERESA CASEY

Redirect Examination

Q—Directing your attention to a conversation that took place on July 28, were you present when Ruth Jefferson and Helen Leary had a conversation with Sgt. Keyes in your house. A—Yes, I was.

Q—About what time. A—Early evening—about 6 o'clock.

Q—At that time do you recall Helen Leary telling Sgt. Keyes what Ruth McGurk said to her before she last left the dance hall. CALLAHAN—I object.

JUDGE GOLDBERG—Your question is "Does she recall?"

DEWING—Yes, your honor.

JUDGE GOLDBERG—I admit it.

DEWING—What was it, if you recall.

CALLAHAN—I object.

Judge Goldberg—in view of the position taken by defense counsel last Friday and the ruling made then by the court, I will admit it, not as bearing on the state of mind of Ruth McGurk or what she was thinking at that time, and it is limited to the ruling-made-by the court that it would bear on her late appearance. You may answer under those limitations.

MISS CASEY—Helen Leary told Sgt. Keyes that Ruth McGurk came over to her in the dance hall on the night of July 27. She was talking to him July 28, and said she was going out with a fellow, that the fellow's name was Frank, that he was a native of Onset, that she would be home early and wait up for her.

Cross-Examination

Q—Who conducts the Lyle Ann Cottage? A—Myself, and two of my sisters, Mrs. Catherine Casey O'Brien, and Eleanor Casey.

Q—Were your other sisters there on July 28? A—Yes.

Q—When did you first notify police that Ruth McGurk was missing? A—Sunday morning I notified Officer John Driscoll of the Wareham police.

Q—As a result of that, did someone else come to your house regarding the disappearance of the girl? A—Yes, Sgt. Gallen.

Q—Did he talk with the Leary or Jefferson girls? A—No, he talked with me. The girls were out walking along the beach and also around the town, hoping to hear something of the missing girl.

Q—When did police talk with the Jefferson and Leary girls. A—About 6 p. m. that night.

Sunday, Sgt. Keyes and Officer Reidy talked with them at the cottage.

Q—Did you ever talk with news-men regarding Ruth McGurk's disappearance? A—No, I never gave out any statement. My sisters talked with them.

Q—Remember who they were. A—No.

Q—Which of the two girls told you that Ruth McGurk said, "she was going out with a boy from Onset." A—Helen Leary.

Q—She said a native boy from Onset. A—Yes.

Re-Direct Examination

Q—When did the Leary girl tell you this conversation. A—The next day about 9 a. m.

(Re-cross-examination)

Q—Miss Casey, were you called before the grand jury in this case. A—No.

Q—Were your sisters. A—No.

THOMAS J. REIDY

(Direct examination)

Next witness called was Thomas J. Reidy, Wareham police officer.

Q—How long have you been a police officer? A—Thirteen years.

Q—On July 28 was your attention called to the fact a girl named Ruth McGurk, was missing. A—Yes.

Q—Were you present at the Casey cottage when Sgt. Keyes questioned two girls: A-Yes.

Q-Did Miss Leary tell Sgt. Keyes in your presence, what Ruth McGurk said as she was leaving the dance hall the night before, answer yes or no? A-Yes.

Q-Tell the court and jury what she said to the best of your recollection. A-After they had given us a description of the missing girl, the Leary girl said that Ruth McGurk came to her and said she was going out with Frank and she would not be out late and wait up for her and she also added as I understood that it was someone from Onset.

Cross-Examination

Q-How you talked with Sgt. Keyes over the week-end about the testimony you were to give here today? A-No, I did not see Sgt. Keyes during the week-end.

Q-Did you talk with him here this morning about your testimony? A-No, I did not.

Q-Did you talk with the prosecutor regarding the case, A-Yes, this morning with the district attorney.

Q-You mean Mr. Dewing. A-Yes.

Q-Did you have any talk with the district attorney regarding what Sgt. Keyes had testified to. A-No.

Q-Was his name mentioned. A-Yes.

Q-When were you first asked to state what you have testified to. A-Today.

Q-Did you make any report on this matter after talking with the girls on July 28. A-No. Sgt. Keyes made the report.

Q-But you made no report. A-No.

Q-Do I understand correctly that today is the first time since July 28 that you were asked to relate this conversation. A-Yes.

Q-Did Sgt. Keyes question the Jefferson girl. A-Yes.

At that point, laughter was created in the court room when Judge Goldberg said to the witnesses: "Please keep your voice up, don't let the police in Onset talk a little louder."

Q-What question did Sgt. Keyes ask that brought out this conversation that the boy was from Onset. A-The sergeant asked her if she, Miss Leary, knew the fellow that the McGurk girl went out with or where he came from that brought out the added statement.

Q-What question was asked before that statement that Frank was from Onset. A-The sergeant asked what type of girl the missing person was and asked about her background.

Judge Goldberg here called the morning recess.

Mrs. Catherine Casey O'Brien was then called by Dewing and identified herself as a winter resident of Somerville and a summer resident of Onset.

She said she was a part owner of the Lyle Ann and was present at the rooming house on Saturday, July 27, and Sunday, July 28. Under questioning by Dewing she said she was informed that Ruth McGurk had not returned to the house from her night of dancing at the Casino.

MRS. C. C. O'BRIEN

(Direct Examination)

Q-Were you present Sunday night when Sgt. Keyes talked to the Leary and Jefferson girls? A-Yes.

Q-What was the conversation? Mrs. O'Brien started to reply, when Callahan objected, and Judge Goldberg immediately cautioned the jury as to the second-hand nature of the conversation to be given by the witness.

Mrs. O'Brien then answered: As I remember correctly, Ruth came up to Helen Leary and Ruth Jefferson and said, "I'm going out with Frank. I won't be long. I'll be home early. Wait up for me. He's a local boy from Onset."

Q-Did they make some statement to you before talking to Officer Keyes. A-Yes, after coming from church, Helen said to me... Before she could finish her answer, Callahan again objected and Judge Goldberg rein-structed the jury concerning the nature of the testimony.

Q-When you saw Helen Leary and Ruth Jefferson Sunday morning, did they relate what Ruth McGurk said to them. A-Yes.

Q-What did Helen Leary tell you after returning from church. A-She said that Ruth McGurk told her that she was going out with Frank, that he was a local boy from Onset.

(Cross-examination)

Callahan then took Mrs. O'Brien over for cross-examination and asked her when she was first queried as to the conversation she had with Helen Leary that Sunday morning at 9 o'clock. She answered, "Just now."

She was asked if the prosecution had talked to her and she admitted that she discussed the matter with Asst. Dist. Atty. Robert G. Clark.

The witness then said that Clark asked her if she had a conversation with the Leary and Jefferson girls, and she told what she had already testified to concerning the conversation.

Q (by Callahan)-Was it the first time since the 28th. A-Yes.

Q-Did you talk to the State Police, Wareham police or members of the district attorney's office since July 28. A-No.

Q-No one from the State Police ever talked to you at your home in Somerville. A-No.

Q-Did you talk to newspapermen the morning of the 28th. A-No.

Q-Have you talked to newspapermen since July 28. A-Yes, the morning the body was found.

Q-To whom did you talk. A-There were so many there.

Q-Did you ever talk to anyone concerning your Sunday morning conversation with the Jefferson and Leary girls and that the girls told you about Frank being a local boy. A-Yes, my sister.

Q-Who was present when you talked with the Leary and Jefferson girls Sunday morning. A-There were three of us in the dining room. My sisters were standing at the kitchen. They might have heard the conversation.

Q-Did one of your sisters notify a special police officer. A-Yes, I believe she did.

Q-Who. A-Johnny Driscoll.

Q-On the telephone. A-Yes.

Q-She met him in the street didn't she. A-No. She called him at his home.

She then revealed that she, personally, did not call the Wareham police but that her sister, Theresa, called them.

Callahan then asked after John Driscoll was called who was the first member of the police department to come to your house. A-Sgt. Gallarani.

Q-Around dinner time. A-Yes, 1 o'clock.

Q-Was there anyone with Gallarani. A-Yes.

Q-How long did they stay. A-About 10 minutes.

Q-Did you or your sister relate the conversation you had with the Jefferson and Leary girls. A-No, we were too busy to speak to the sergeant.

Q-But you sent for the police. A-Yes.

Q-But when they arrived you were too busy to speak to them. A-No, we told them the girls were at the beach.

Q-Didn't the sergeant ask what it was all about. A-No.

She then told of a police car driving up to the front door and her sister, Theresa, greeting the occupants, and telling them that the girls were out and to come back later.

Q-Were the girls in bathing. A-No, they were walking along the beach.

The sergeant did not ask what the people were. A-He knew. He asked to see the two girls.

Q-Weren't you asked as to any knowledge you had of the disappearance. A-I don't remember.

Q-Did anyone from the police department visit your house between 1 and 7 that evening? A-Yes.

Q-Who? A-I think it was Officer Ready.

Q-Were you present when Sgt. Keyes questioned Helen Leary and the Jefferson girl. A-Yes, I was.

Q-Did you hear that questioning. A-Yes, I did.

Q-Did you hear her answers. A-Yes, I did.

Q-What was it Sgt. Keyes asked Helen Leary. A-He asked her how tall the fellow with Ruth McGurk was-what was his description.

Q-What did she answer to the question as to how tall he was. A-A little taller than Ruth.

Q-Did she tell him how tall Ruth was. A-Yes, she did.

Q-What did Helen Leary reply to that. A-I think she said about 5 feet, 2 inches.

Q-How else did she describe him? A-She said that he had on a dark tweed sport coat with a sport collar open at the neck and out over the coat; that he had a fair complexion, brown hair, combed back.

Q-Did he ask how much the man weighed? A-I do not think he did. I do not recall it.

Q-Did he ask if the man had any marks or scars or things of that sort? A-I think he did.

Q-What did she answer to that? A-That she didn't see any marks or scars on him, but she said she would know him if she saw him again.

Q-You do not recall any questions as to description asked Ruth Jefferson. A-No, I do not.

Q-Well, now what question asked by Sgt. Keyes brought the answer of the statement made in conversation by Ruth McGurk that the fellow with Ruth was a local boy or an Onset boy. A-I think it was the question he asked her if she saw Ruth before she left the dance.

Callahan-What. A-She said that if she saw him again she would know him; there is no question about that? A-No.

Q-Was the Jefferson girl questioned as to his description? A-I believe it was Helen Leary who answered that question.

Q-You do not recall any questions as to description asked Ruth Jefferson. A-No, I do not.

Q-Well, now what question asked by Sgt. Keyes brought the answer of the statement made in conversation by Ruth McGurk that the fellow with Ruth was a local boy or an Onset boy. A-I think it was the question he asked her if she saw Ruth before she left the dance.

Callahan-What. A-She said that if she saw him again she would know him; there is no question about that? A-No.

Q-Then what. A-He asked what she said to her.

Q-Her reply to that. A-She mentioned that she was going out with a boy named Frank and that he was a local boy, an Onset boy.

Q-There is no question regarding that. A-No.

Q-Is that the only time Helen Leary and Ruth Jefferson were asked about the conversation with Ruth McGurk while Sgt. Keyes was there. A-I believe it was.

Q-Didn't Helen Leary say there were two questionings about conversations with Ruth McGurk. A-I do not know.

Q-What would be the difference in time between the two conversations with Sgt. Keyes in which she mentioned the boy was a local boy, an Onset boy, and the time she said that boy's name was Frank and not to wait up for her-or rather to wait up for her. A-I believe there was only one conversation where Ruth's conversation was told by Helen.

Q-You think there was one conversation about the talk Ruth had with Helen with Sgt. Keyes. A-Yes.

Q-And she gave in that question the complete conversation with Ruth McGurk in answer to that one question. A-She did.

Q-No doubt in your mind about that. A-Yes.

Q-Did you give testimony before the grand jury. A-No.

Q-You told us that from July 28 you were never interviewed by anyone connected with the prosecution of this case until this morning. A-That is true. I did see some of the investigators at the house, but I never did talk with them.

Q-Did your sister talk. A-Yes.

Q-How many times. A-I'm sure I do not know.

Q-There's another sister. A-Yes.

Q-Was your other sister there with you and Theresa when Sgt. Keyes had the conversation with Helen Leary about Ruth McGurk. A-Yes.

Q-Your other sister was present, too. A-Yes.

Q-At the conversation you had with Helen Leary and Ruth Jefferson at 9 o'clock. A-Yes.

Q-When was it you say you talked with newspapermen. A-July 27 and Aug. 1 the day the body was found.

Q-You mean to tell us that the questioning regarding all the last conversation with Ruth McGurk had with Helen Leary and Ruth Jefferson was brought out at one time. A-Yes, I believe so.

Q-You don't recall that your other sister was questioned in your presence. A-No.

Q-How did you get down here this morning. A-I came to Onset last Saturday from New York.

Q-How did you get from Onset to Plymouth. A-By machine.

Q-Whose machine. A-It came to take my sister down.

Q-Who rode over here with you. A-My sister, Theresa and some man was driving, an officer, I believe.

Q-Did you have a talk with him on the way over. A-No, I did not. He did not speak to me. He spoke to Theresa.

Q-Was the testimony you were going to give spoken of. A-No, it was not.

Q-What conversation did he have with Theresa. A-He asked

Q-And she gave in that question the complete conversation with Ruth McGurk in answer to that one question. A-She did.

Q-Whose machine. A-It came to take my sister down.

Q-Who rode over here with you. A-My sister, Theresa and some man was driving, an officer, I believe.

Q-Did you have a talk with him on the way over. A-No, I did not. He did not speak to me. He spoke to Theresa.

Q-Was the testimony you were going to give spoken of. A-No, it was not.

Q-What conversation did he have with Theresa. A-He asked which one of us had testified last Friday. Theresa answered it was she. That was all about the testimony. She only spoke when spoken to.

Q-Was that all that was said from Onset to Plymouth. A-That is about all. Theresa asked the officer who he was, I believe.

Q-Did you tell your sister what you were going to testify to. A-No, I did not. I did not say a word to her.

Q-Did you say a word to her from the time you came to Onset last Friday when you say you came from New York. Did you ask her anything about her Friday testimony last Saturday. A-I did not need to. I picked up a paper and I saw going down to Onset that she had testified Friday.

Q-You didn't say anything to her when you got down to Onset? You didn't talk about her testimony on Friday? A-No; I did not, except to make some remarks such as that I saw her pictures in the paper.

Q-Did you expect to be a witness at that time? A-No, I did not. I did not know until this morning.

Q-You did not know until this morning? Was there any reason why you should have asked her about her testimony the day before, Friday? A-No.

Q-Did you ask her Saturday or Sunday? A-No.

Q-Didn't you ask her something like: What did they ask you? A-No.

Q-Didn't you ask her what she had testified to? A-No, I did not.

Q-Didn't Theresa tell you what she testified to? A-No, she did not.

Q-What was said by your sister regarding her testimony on Friday? A-She just said she went down and came back the same day.

Q-You didn't ask her what she said on the stand? A-No, I did not.

Q-You didn't say "what did they ask you." A-I did not.

Q-Was your other sister present, too. A-Yes.

Q-Did she ask her. A-No.

Q-So there was not a word said Saturday or Sunday about Theresa testifying on Friday when she was a witness-was there any conspiracy for you not to ask her. A-No, there was not. We talked about other things. The only mention made of her coming here was about her picture the paper and so forth.

Q-Did you deliberately avoid

CIVILIAN NAVAL RESERVE

BY A PRESIDENTIAL proclamation, this is Civilian Naval Reserve Week. The nation emerged victoriously from the Second World War as the greatest naval power in history, with an invincible armada of fighting ships—including aircraft carriers—and many auxiliaries of naval combat and supply.

To keep all of these vessels in active commission, with the requisite personnel, would obviously have been an extravagant action. To scrap them all would have been unwarranted folly.

The proper medium was to preserve in full service a Navy requisite for immediate defense in case of emergency, with a reserve capable of being put quickly and efficiently into operation.

Accordingly, the Navy devised—and Congress has approved—a permanent policy whereby the wartime Navy as a whole was divided into echelons.

Supernumerary vessels were retired, of course. Remaining on active duty are the Atlantic and Pacific fleets.

They comprise the "Two-Ocean Navy" which the best regarded experts have held to be essential for our national security.

Sent into reserve are the selected ships of all categories which will comprise the "second line" of oceanic defense.

Under this plan, the active Navy will be always ready, served by the officers and men of the regular sea forces.

IN ORDER that the thousands of reserve ships may not deteriorate idly, and may be speedily available for full duty, personnel for them must also be maintained in training. This is the function of the Civilian Naval Reserve.

It corresponds to the National Guard and the organized reserve which support the regular Army as a land force.

In either case, men may attach themselves to the uniformed services.

They derive all the benefits which are numerous and receiving peacetime training. And they do not change their civilian status.

Training in the Civilian Naval Reserve, to be taken somewhat like vacations at appropriate intervals or at such other times as are arranged, will include instruction or experience in practical trades.

There will also be maritime exercises suitable for a deep-sea corps, and—of course—ocean travel for many.

The emblem of membership in the Civilian Naval Reserve is an EMBLEM OF HONOR.

It denotes both character and patriotism. Either veterans or non-veterans are eligible. Enrollment entails no reduction of GI preferences or privileges.

THE NAVAL RESERVE is open to Navy and Coast Guard veterans up to the age of 64, and to other Americans between the ages of 17 and 40.

Membership is voluntary.

Resignation is permitted at any time.

A member may be as active or inactive as personal circumstances permit.

Any Navy recruiting office or Naval Reserve base or unit will receive applications. Or prospective enrollees may write to the Naval Reserve at Boston, Charleston, S. C., Chicago, Jacksonville, New Orleans, New York, Norfolk, Philadelphia, San Diego, San Francisco or Seattle.

There are places for one million Americans in the Civilian Naval Reserve.

EVERY PLACE SHOULD BE FILLED. The Navy has always had a special appeal to New England youth.

Although our major ports have lagged in recent years because of the failure of business and industry to give them the right kind of support, popular interest in the sea has not lagged.

The spirit of adventure and the desire to serve are as alive now as they were in the glorious era of the Clipper Ships.

Massachusetts and New England young men can be relied upon to answer the call of their country's Navy and to man its Civilian Reserve.

To them this is an opportunity not to be neglected or delayed.

Alas! Who knows or cares, my love,
If our love live or die,
If you your frailty, sweet, should prove
Or my soul yours deny.
None know, sweet love, none care a thought,
For our hearts vague desire
Nor if our longing come to naught
Or burn in aimless fire;
Let them alone, we'll waste no sighs,
Cling closer, love, and close your eyes.

NOW THERE'S BEEN another baby mix-up in another hospital. This occurs so often you would think hospitals would be avoided for blessed events. Why hasn't somebody originated a system of baby identification that would make a mistake impossible? Isn't there a harmless way of stamping a baby with a number? I suppose if they did that some hospital employees would get the numbers mixed. As I said in some previous comment on this matter I was born at home. When my mother pointed at me and said, "That's my baby!" she knew what she was talking about.

PASSING BY: Dr. Irving Daniel Shorell one of the world's greatest plastic surgeons. A native of New York city. Some of his operations are designed to rejuvenate a ppearance, but most are on the victims of accidents. He recently donated his services to take care of a number of scarred survivors of the T-Boy City disaster. . . Jack Benny. In his personal appearance billing he is using the slogan, "The Waukegan Wit." Do you remember when Frank Fay was billed as "Broadway's Boy Friend" and Phil Baker as "A Bad Boy From A Good Family"? Oh, so you do. Then all right, smart fellow, tell us what vaudeville star was billed as "The Blue Streak Of Ragtime," and who as "The Bernhardt Of Song?"

Jack Benny

THINGS SEEN: Saw a collection of old theatrical posters in the window of a Sixth ave., N. Y., bookshop. One poster illustrated "the great saw mill scene," in the melodrama "Blue Jeans," by Joseph Arthur, author of "The Still Alarm" . . . In an old coin shop I saw a United States twenty dollar gold piece dated 1900 and offered for fifty-two dollars and fifty cents . . . On Seventh ave. noted a bowling alley which, by means of a huge sign, boasts of having fifty-six alleys.

ASKING: Queries from clients. Q.—Did you see Kid Chocolate when in Havana? A.—Didn't see him but heard he was running a gymnasium there. Q.—What's the best way to handle a Sagittarius (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) husband? A.—Same as any other husband. Keep him comfortable, feed him well. Shower him with love and try to make him believe he would be lost in a fog without you. That's what our Mules & Men experts say. The stargazers claim Sagittarians are "married bachelor" types. That wives have to be on their toes constantly to keep them in matrimonial harness. Q.—Is there a rhymed recipe for bouillabaise? A.—Don't know of any. Thackeray wrote about this dish but his lines are more of a description than a recipe. They follow:

*This Bouillabaise a noble dish is,
A sort of soup or broth or brew
Or hotpotch of all sorts of fishes,
Green herbs, red peppers, mussels,
Sole, snappers,
Soles, onions, garlic, roach and dace.*

HARASSED BACHELORS: The most difficult city in the country in which a bachelor can retain his beloved liberty is Los Angeles. That's what a single man of that city claims. He says he has had 47 direct proposals of marriage in the past 18 years. "I am not a good-looking fellow," he adds, "but I have a fine business of my own with an excellent income."

PLEASE NOTE: If you have a son who has a bicycle and a little dog persuade the lad not to let the dog run after him when he is bike riding. Not too far, anyhow. Running after the family auto or the young master on a bicycle is very bad for a dog. Brings on heart disease.

HORSES: The sportscribes who were hailing Phalanx as the country's greatest three-year-old have walked out on the noble animal. Not only that, but Jockey Arcaro has made some disparaging remarks about this colt. Phalanx is a great horse and will eventually prove it. He has just one burst of speed. But that is enough if he is guided to start it at the right stage of the race.

FAIR ENOUGH

INTERNAL REVENUE law permits persons who give money to "educational" organizations to deduct such contributions in computing their tax returns. This law never was intended to permit private espionage agencies and personally controlled groups, which distribute political propaganda and personal smear material, to live by the exemption.

The Friends of Democracy, with its main office in New York, was founded in 1937 by L. M. Birkhead, formerly a preacher.

Birkhead denies that the Friends of Democracy is "a propaganda and investigational group," but he sends me, in the same mail, 19 pages of propaganda and attacks on a number of respectable American citizens, principally John T. Flynn, the New York journalist and anti-Communist pamphleteer.

Birkhead says the attacks on Flynn began as soon as Flynn began to put out propaganda of the "extreme nationalist variety."

BIRKHEAD writes that "extreme nationalism is one of the major characteristics of Fascism." It is also the very spirit of the oath sworn by every American President and every recruit on induction into the Army.

Communists, on the other hand, do not cherish the nationality of the United States. To conclude that this makes Birkhead a Communist or his Friends of Democracy a Communist front would be to adopt the process by which he arrives at the decision that because Flynn is a nationalist and Hitler was a nationalist, Flynn must be a Nazi.

Birkhead says his Friends of Democracy is "an educational organization" which issues pamphlets and leaflets, "all of an educational character," to inform the American people of the propaganda to which they are subject. When others do this, they are propagandists. When Birkhead does it, he is an educator.

NOW LET US see whether this organization, probably living on tax-exempt contributions, is engaged in "investigational" work.

Last Dec. 10, the F. O. D. sent out a mooching letter to its list signed by Rex Stout.

Stout was one of the organizers of the radical magazine, the New Masses. Birkhead's propaganda says he got out because the Communists filtered in. I don't have to believe that.

This letter closes with a reminder that "contributions are deductible from income tax."

An attached summary of the F. O. D.'s activities in the past year said it: "Made possible publication of John Roy Carlson's second book, 'The Plotters.'" Carlson, born Derouin, is a professional snoop.

J. EDGAR HOOVER recently wrote that he was dismissed by the FBI which he had served for less than three months as an "informant but not as a regular FBI man, because he was 'contributing little of value.'"

"This bureau has never, at any time, substantiated any claims made by him," Mr. Hoover wrote, in direct contradiction of a statement on the letterhead of the weekly book review of the New York Herald Tribune signed "Irita Van Doren, Editor" that the FBI did, "substantiated" Carlson's claims "at every point."

Carlson claims to be an "investigator" and nothing else.

So, in contradiction of Birkhead's claim that this organization, soliciting tax-exempt gifts, does not make investigations, we have Rex Stout boasting that Carlson was "associated with the Friends of Democracy for six years" and gathered his material for two books, "Under Cover" and "The Plotters," "while acting in his capacity of chief investigator for F. O. D."

In both books we find Carlson thanking Birkhead for permission to use "the extensive and orderly files" of the F. O. D. In "The Plotters," on Page 112, he says he "looked up a victim's 'background' in the files of Birkhead's office. On page 140 he says he wrote to F. H. Smith of the War Veterans Association of America, whom he was investigating, 'using the stationery of the Friends of Democracy.'" On page 362 he writes that he was employed for six years by the F. O. D.

IN THE BIRKHEAD propaganda the Non-Sectarian Anti-Nazi League is defended in its failure to fight Communism along with "Fascism" in the United States. The excuse is that it was not organized to fight Communism but only Nazism.

The tax exemption granted by Congress for educational institutions here is invoked by an organization which denies that it does "investigational" work, but has a "chief investigator" and devotes itself largely and intensely to the "educational" smearing of patriotic Americans of clean reputation, apparently on the very ground that they are patriotic citizens of undivided loyalty.

Hollywood

By Louella O. Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, May 19.—There is big rejoicing in Charles Einfeld's enterprise camp over his purchase of Lion Feuchtwanger's new novel "Proud Destiny." Charlie feels it's the biggest buy since he nabbed "Arch of Triumph."

There was indeed splendid bidding for the movie rights to this 1100-page novel and the price paid is $350,000. A new high, isn't it, for a novel?

The story deals with the romance of Beaumarchais, the French playwright, and Desiree, famous French actress, who lived in the time of Benjamin Franklin. In fact, Franklin is in the picture, as are other famous people of that era. Lewis Milestone directs it and I have a hunch an effort will be made to get Ingrid Bergman and Charles Boyer, stars of "Arch," for "Proud Destiny."

OVER THE WEEK-END "The Life of Damon Runyon" was sold to Marshall Grant, the young producer who also acquired the controversial "Moonrise."

The $25,000 advance was immediately turned over to the Damon Runyon Memorial Fund. The colorful story of Damon Runyon, if done properly, will make a tremendously interesting motion picture. Damon Runyon, Jr., has been retained as technical adviser, and the picture will be made in the fall.

SUE CAROL LADD has her figure back and she looks prettier than she's looked in years. So she's a happy girl to know she's going to get a chance to go to New York in the fall and show off that swell shape.

Alan has been set to star in the William Wister story, "The Long Gray Line." Remember I told you weeks ago that Paramount is making the West Point story, telling the actual story of the historic academy from which MacArthur and most of our other famous generals graduated. It will be made, of course, at the Point, and that means a trip to New York for Susie and Alan.

JAMES MASON will not do "The African Queen" with Bette Davis, but he will make a picture, he says, in the fall in New York. He can't come to Hollywood until January, so he has set up an independent deal in which he and his wife, Pamela Kellino, will have the acting leads in a story he is now preparing.

John Monaghan, who is the Masons' good man Friday, after ego and a few other things, is working out details of the production setup. There was a preliminary hearing on Mason's law suit with producer David Rose Friday.

MARILYN NASH, the Charlie Chaplin protegee, left for New York to make personal appearances for his picture. Perhaps that's a part of the exploitation which United Artists is planning. But Marilyn won't stay too long. She tells me she's going to have her baby right in Los Angeles in September. She's the wife of Phil Yordan, author of "Anna Lucasta" and well known movie writer.

She has had several offers to make pictures, but she will not accept any of them until after the birth of her baby. Unfortunately that her first picture happened to be one that was so controversial.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD collected at random: What's this I hear about Cary Grant's attentions to Peggy Cummins? They're keeping it very much to themselves and Peggy is certainly his type.

Joan Caulfield and Charlie Feldman are another Hollywood pair of starlets. Saw them dining with the Sam Goldwyns. At a nearby table George Burns played host to Jane Wyman, Ronald Reagan, Jack Warner, Roy Cohn and Bill Orr. Craig is home with a headache. Never heard George so funny. He had Jack Warner rolling out of his chair.

Leta Alko, who was Carole Lombard's stand-in in the old days, exfoliated an eight-pound baby. She is married to a dentist.

The Dan Dailey baby is expected in August and Mrs. Dailey will go East so she can be near Dan's family. He will be on location in Arizona at that time.

Everett Freeman, who writes the Fanny Brice and other radio shows, will marry Rose Ann Murray, a New York actress, in just two weeks.

The Ray Heindorfers are cradle shopping for their second baby, due in the fall. He's Warner's musical director.

Mrs. Lorena Danke goes into the hospital this week for a complete check-up and rest. She's too pretty to be out of circulation long.

Now it's the head. Helena Carter, George Raft is buying dinners for and telephoning each day.

Valli, the Selznick star, will enroll for a course in philosophy this fall. She formerly went to college in Rome.

Anne Baxter, who is still far from well, has gone on a fishing trip with John Hodiak to see if she can recuperate.

Peggy Knudsen is having a difficult time deciding between Phil Reed and Howard Hughes. Both are paying her attention.

Louis B. Mayer and Clarence Brown flew to San Francisco today, piloted by Robert Taylor. I don't know why I was surprised, but I was, when told that James Byrnes, former Secretary of State, was awarded the humanitarian prize by the Variety Club.

You needn't be surprised if Florence Pritchard, pretty radio commentator and formerly on the New York Journal-American, marries Robert Walker. Bob leaves Tuesday for New York to ask Florence the important question. They were once the hottest movie romance on the calendar, but that was three years ago. Since that time his favorite girl friend has been the ex-Mrs. Herbert Marshall. He was formerly married to Jennifer Jones.

Director Otto Preminger took off Saturday night for a week in New York to visit his mother whom he hasn't seen for almost a year. It took him almost that long to get "Forever Amber" finished.

While in New York he'll take some background shots for "Daisy Kenyon," and he expects to do it in simple time to make final plans for "Daisy," which gets going June 15.

And that reminds me, Otto says there is no truth in the continued report that Dana Andrews is out of the picture. Dana is co-starring with Joan Crawford and everybody's happy. That's what the man says.

If Ingrid Bergman isn't the richest woman in town it won't be because she hasn't made the most money. Her share of the profits of "Arch of Triumph" is 35 per cent, and I am told she gets the same amount from the picture version of "Joan of Lorraine," which she is making with Walter Wanger and Victor Fleming as soon as she's well enough.

A new bungalow has been built on the Roach lot to house Bergman and give her every comfort while she's making the picture.

When Jimmy Cagney did "Grand Street Folies" in 1928 there was an actress who appeared with him named Paula Truman. Well, they met again when she did a part with Billie Burke in "Accidentally Yours" here in Los Angeles. So he promptly asked her to play Lorene, a comedy role in "Time of Your Life." The Saroyan play, and she has accepted.

One thing about the Cagney, he seldom forgets his friends.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Robert Walker the calendar, but that was three years ago. Since that time his favorite girl friend has been the ex-Mrs. Herbert Marshall. He was formerly married to Jennifer Jones.

Boston After Dark

MONDAY MUSINGS: As our mentors on Boston's traffic, the taxi drivers, are 100 per cent in accord, today's traffic suggestion is advanced to the proper authorities in the conviction that it must be accepted as a "save some lives" measure, and the more quickly it is accepted, the more lives will be saved. The suggestion: Keep the traffic lights glowing all night at the intersections of Beacon st. and Charles st., and at Beacon st. and Mass. ave.

MORE MUSINGS: The outstanding "mistake" of the current Congress is blamed on the Senate alone—and on a Senate committee at that. . . . Washington gets excited about the "mistake" every time the word "atomic" is mentioned. . . . It gets furious over the "mistake" when someone—Glenn Martin, the famous airman, comes to mind as an example—discusses an atomic age problem. . . . Martin spoke Saturday of experiments being made by scientists in releasing what is called a radioactive cloud.

THIS CLOUD can be released from an airplane, and the result is the moistening of many square miles of earth with a death dealing dew that includes lingering and agonizing death to humans. . . . Our Washington grapevine tells us that the Senatorial "mistake" came in for more discussion this week-end over the leopards and the cocktail tables than the proposed Senate "labor bill." . . . It tells us that several of the Senators responsible for the "mistake" are belaboring themselves and confessing openly that they committed what the baseball players call "a skunk."

These Senators now are willing to be quoted concerning their remorse over their mistake. . . . President Truman, of course, comes in for considerable blame (as it was he who made the appointment and put the Senate committee in position to perpetrate the outstanding misdeed of 1947). . . . But the Senate—supposedly close to the public—is taking the big rap. . . . The "mistake" was the confirmation of David Lilienthal to the boss-ship of the so-called atomic commission.

THOUGH LILIENTHAL may prove himself a genius in the handling of the "most important job in the world," his appointment will continue to be regarded as a "mistake" in Washington. . . . The reason is that time has not staled the mistrust of literally millions of alarmed Americans who keep muttering to themselves: "Why did our Government have to select a man to handle the atom about whom there could be a debate?"

MR. LILIENTHAL may be the paragon his apologists represent him to be. . . . But is America so bereft of manpower that a bureaucrat bent by the Communists and with an admitted, follow-traveler in his own faculty was the best choice for a job on which the safety of the country may depend? . . . These are the thought-waves being communicated to Congress in a sea of letters!

CREDITING our excellent Washington sources with knowing the sentiment of the Capitol, we can predict that the country has not heard the last blast in the Lilienthal debate. . . . If the foreign relations from were not so quiet for the nonce, the subject of the Lilienthal appointment would be the text of some oratory in one or both national houses. We predict that before this Congress adjourns in July (as the members hope) the name of David Lilienthal will make headlines again—and again.

AL JOHNSON's appearance on the Jack Benny show was interesting for some technical reasons. . . . Although it did not detract from his performance, those songs sung by Jolie were recordings and not the real live Al who read his speaking lines to the audience. . . . Persons with a sensitive ear for music could have realized at once that the voice of Johnson was being dubbed into the radio show. . . . When the orchestra took up the cue from the program, the crew which played Johnson's accompaniment obviously was no assemblage of musicians answering to the baton of Phil Harris. . . . When there were strings in it.

NEW YORK, May 19—Ladies particularly ladies of leisure—are never contented to let well enough alone. I was reminded of this the other evening when I saw

Eileen Herzig, the red-haired (of Romeo and Juliet fame) at the Coo Rouge, hardly recognizable as such, she had bleached her spectacular coal black hair and made it "just hair."

Judy Garland this blurred her former vivaciousness and made her look like just another girl. She isn't the first to achieve such a transformation. Many more famous have started out with what it takes and deliberately put the glamor brakes on their own looks.

Judy Garland, for instance, was glowing and magnetic in a wholesome bright-eyed way until she dieted to the point where you could pull her through a wedding ring. Another case in hand is Lana Turner, whose blond tresses (artificial, but right for her) made her look like a sexy sunbeam. She had a spell of letting glamor go down the drain when she dyed her hair a drab dark shade, but the protests were loud and uncompromising, so she bleached her hair again.

Rosalind Russell, a smart girl in other ways, has a penchant for stay-away-from-me hats instead of come-hither hats, some of them so odd that anyone would think she were competing for the Hedda Hopper trophy. Anne Baxter recently received a lot of unwelcome publicity because of her affinity for clothes that make her look years older than she is.

WASHINGTON, May 19—Only three Republicans voted against the Senate labor bill. In the order of their assent—or worse—they are Sens. Wayne Morse of Oregon; William Langer of North Dakota; and George W. Malone of Nevada.

To commemorate their fearless stand against enlightened legislation I have composed the following poetic tribute: I'm slow to anger.

At Senator Langer, He's a dope, of course, Like Senator Morse. But their heads aren't all bone, Like Senator Malone.

THE ABOVE MENTIONED voluble and equestrian Morse, sometimes known as the four horsemen of the talky lips, also reared up on his heels at 5:30 p. m. of a long legislative day and proceeded to whinny for an hour and a half on reclamation.

The oratorical Oregonian proved so spellbinding that, one after another, his fellow senators deserted the floor until only Wallace H. White, Jr., of Maine, was left. Junior White stuck around because he is a cute strutting peacock and he is moving once he is comfortably situated.

Sen. Morse, who brought his horse with him when he came to Congress, although many contend he should have sent the nag and remained home himself, succeeded in making his speech drier than most of the areas he wants reclaimed. By the time he was half through, even the hired help was suffering from the drouth and dozing off in corners.

When the ordeal was ended, one of the sufferers got up and brushed the sleep from his eyes. "You know," he observed, "it's too bad Morse couldn't have paired off with somebody. If Morse's horse was here it would vote 'nay'."

WITH THE CONVICTION of former Sergeant-at-Arms Kenneth Romney for being shorter than Tom Thumb—in his accounts, that is—members of the House of Representatives are grousing because a lot of their dough on deposit with the sergeant-at-arms is still tied up.

All accounts were frozen when the shortage was revealed last Jan. 3. From time to time a percentage of the deposit was released but there is about 7 per cent still on ice. And this remaining 7 per cent represents the entire checking account of Rep. F. Edward Hebert, of Louisiana.

Despite his unlikeliest condition, however, Mr. Hebert scraped together enough dough to give a barbecue at his Virginia place. It turned out to be a rainy night and Hebert acres was a sea of red Virginia mud. The sparrows—and let's hear no cracks that Mr. Hebert probably got them out of a congressional pork barrel—were barbecued out of doors. Also Mr. Hebert wished to provide entertainment for his guests, but, being insolvent, wished to provide it on the cuff. So he invited Rep. William E. Hess of Ohio, and suggested very handsomely—that he bring along his guitar.

Rep. Hess is the Gene Autry of Congress. The next day, however, Mr. Hess sent Mr. Hebert an itemized bill as follows:

For cleaning three pairs of shoes (had to keep changing) $1.50.

For having auto washed after ploughing out of your backyard $2.50.

1 bottle aspirin (to ward off fatal cold) $3.50.

For cleaning suit of sparrerib juice $.75.

2 hours guitar playing (Petrillo prices) $100.

"I paid him all right," reported Mr. Hebert. "I sent him a check on Romney's account!"

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Copyright, 1947, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

THE OLD LEAGUE OF NATIONS failed because in the matters of Manchuria and Ethiopia it was unable to prevent what then appeared to be minor wars. In the Manchurian affair, the League of Nations proved to be without the capacity to safeguard the peace of the world once a major power asserted a lust for conquest.

It then became clear that unless the United States assumed the responsibility for League sanction, the League was a powerless forum for public discussion—and no more. This position was confirmed in the Italo-Ethiopian war. After that the League of Nations was dead because it had ceased to function in the principal field for which it had been established.

The Palestinian issue is the most important that has confronted the new United Nations organization in the field of preventing and limiting war. Whereas, currently, Palestine presents the facade of a local rebellion on the part of Jewish residents of Palestine against Great Britain, actually it represents an assertion of authority by the newly emerged Arab League which has established a bloc of Koranic religious in opposition to European hegemony. Out of such a situation a war involving all the nations of the world can, in time, eventuate.

NO INTERNATIONAL PROBLEM is quite as complex and involves so many political, religious and psychological difficulties. To those who, like Ben Hecht, or the Grand Mufti of Jerusalem, see it in the simplicities of nationalistic aspirations, there is nothing to solve.

To one, all that is necessary is a victory of Jewish irreconcilables over the British mandatory; to the other, it would all be so simple if the Jews were put to the sword and physically eliminated.

Actually, so much more is at stake that both the United States and Great Britain were impelled to insist upon neutrals making the investigation, the greater powers, by this formula, limiting their commitment to accept whatever proposals are finally made.

At stake are, to list the more important items:

1—The control of the Suez canal;

2—The hegemony of Western Europe over Asia Minor, the Eastern Mediterranean, and in fact, the entire Mediterranean world;

3—The emergence of the Arab League as a world power, thus creating a new imperial group that stretches in its influence from Egypt to China and India;

4—The age-long struggle between Christian and Moslem civilizations in Asia and Africa, with the attendant danger of a second anti-Christian force rising in Eastern Europe;

5—The persistent strength of the Jews in spite of the ravages of this war; the Jewish rebellion in Palestine giving evidence of a nationalistic revival and resilience unanticipated in this era;

6—The protection of British and American investments in Arabic countries, particularly in oil, which are not merely capitalistic but also defensive enterprises;

7—The acknowledgment that Soviet Russia has become the successor to Nazi German imperialism and the conflict between the Russian program for world hegemony with the Anglo-American program of world co-operation;

8—The Russian desire to eliminate Great Britain as a world power by reducing the effectiveness of British defenses and by limiting the areas of economic exploitation for her industry and commerce.

AS THE REAL ISSUES are charted, it is obvious that the Jewish-Arab conflict is not the major issue. It is also clear that this particular question, were there no others, might have been settled by treaty and arrangement between the Jews and the Arabs as heretofore.

Both are adequately represented. The Jewish Agency is the only formal body that is generally acknowledged by adhering Jews as authoritative in Palestinian matters; the Arab League represents the governments of most predominantly Moslem countries.

Because of other issues, which overwhelm the direct question, neither the Jewish Agency nor the Arab League can find a basis for even a temporary settlement. Neither is a free agent.

If the United Nations finds a way to keep the peace in Asia Minor, if its solution is just, if its proposals are workable, it will have set a pattern as important to its existence as were the decisions of John Marshall in the Supreme Court of the United States in the early years of this century.

Palestine is the test

Ever wonder what becomes of your LIFE INSURANCE DOLLAR?

THE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES' INCOME DOLLAR

AGENT: "The other main source of income is earnings from investments—bought with the money the companies must set aside for future payments. Last year, 1946, the life insurance companies as a whole took in 21 cents from investment income for every 79 cents from premiums. We'll call the sum of these the income dollar."

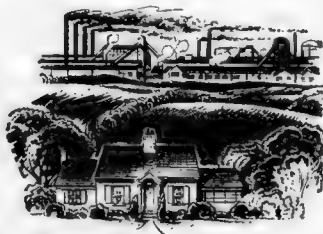

3.

AGENT: "Now, what did they do with this dollar? They used it in three main ways. The first of these was death payments and payments to living policyholders, including dividends. 41 cents of the average income dollar was used this way."

4.

YOUR LIFE INSURANCE DOLLAR MAKES JOBS!

AGENT: "A second important way they used this income dollar was to earmark 42¢ of it as a reserve to guarantee future payments to policyholders as they come due. The companies put this money to work. It stimulates production and makes jobs by providing capital for railroads, factories, farms and homes. And this money at work helps reduce your insurance cost."

5.

AGENT: "It takes 170,000 agents plus 125,000 other personnel to take care of the 175 million separate life insurance policies. In addition there are taxes and other outlays. These agency and home office costs of doing business add up to the remaining 17 cents."

6.

AGENT: "For every 79 cents the policyholders paid, in 1946, they or their families received 83 cents in present payments or future credits as well as reserve. ... This would not have been possible without the money the life insurance companies took in from their investments."

Western Electric Pickets Return

WASHINGTON, May 19 (AP)—Striking installations workers of the Western Electric Co. today re-established their picket lines, forcing curtailment of telephone service again in some areas.

In New Jersey the Bell Telephone Co. reported several main exchanges were heavily picketed. Service was placed on an emergency basis at points where operators refused to cross the picket lines.

Some curtailment also was reported in Illinois, but in New York other workers ignored the pickets and went to their posts.

An 18-hour negotiating conference failed to beat the 6 a. m. deadline set by ACEW for restoration of the lines.

New Wedding Fete Food Poison Test

EASTHAMPTON, May 19 (AP)—Specimens of food which poisoned 64 persons at a wedding dinner Saturday were prepared for State laboratory tests today as first analysis failed to determine what item on the menu sickened the bridegroom and guests.

Cooley Dickinson Hospital in Northampton reported as "all right" the tomato juice which was blamed by one doctor after he had discounted liquor as the cause.

A dozen victims remained for further treatment after 52 others were discharged from hospitals in Northampton, Holyoke and Springfield where seven persons whose names originally on the danger list were reported recovering.

HAT EXCHANGE

SALEM, May 19—She served her husband, Charles, two hot potatoes—which he served right back at her, one at a time, Mrs. Shirley Patterson, 26, of Lynn, testified in probate court today.

Both potatoes hit her, she said, explaining he had used them to emphasize he liked them peeled, not in the jackets as she had cooked them.

Another time, said Mrs. Patterson, she had served him tea instead of coffee and he heaved the teapot at her.

Judge Phelan took under advisement her uncontested petition for a divorce on grounds of cruelty, and custody of two children.

Redrafted Labor Bill Nearly Ready

WASHINGTON, May 19 (AP)—Republican Senators Taft of Ohio and Ball of Minnesota said today Senate-House conferees may complete work on a compromise labor bill this week.

At the same time Democratic Sen. George of Georgia predicted the result "won't be as drastic as the Case bill" of last year, and President Truman will find it "difficult to veto."

George noted that organized labor leaders have bitterly attacked both Senate and House bills, but measure does not restrict union activities unduly.

END MEBOY TRIP

GANDER, Nfld., May 19 (AP)—Dr. James Paton, superintendent of the Banting Memorial Hospital, said today Lena Blah, 26, brought her by canoe, sled, boat and plane from the Quebec-Labrador border hinterland, was suffering third-degree burns, but there was every hope for her recovery.

He said Miss Blah suffered the burns on her body and legs in the explosion yesterday of a gasoline iron she was using in a remote lumber camp.

MRS. M'ARTHUR AT FAIR

TOKYO, May 19 (AP)—Mrs. MacArthur today officially opened the Japanese government-sponsored silk fair, aimed principally at allied personnel with a view toward stimulating silk exports.

3 Killed in Holdup At Dinner Party

CHICAGO, May 19 (AP)—Three persons were shot and killed last night during an attempted robbery of a West Side apartment where 32 people were gathered for a dinner party.

The dead were Albert Fineberg, 38, host; Benjamin Eisenstein, 39, personal bailiff to Judge Oscar E. Caplan, and a man identified as George Stanislawski, an ex-convict, 32, who police said was one of the robbers.

Shortly before midnight three men appeared. Two carried guns, and the other a large hammer. The shooting started when Eisenstein started toward the bedroom where he had a gun which he is authorized to carry as a bailiff.

Murder Trial Periled by Juror

Discovery that a juror, who had been accepted and sworn to sit in the trial of Francis H. Moore, 19, of Ashland, charged with first degree murder of William A. McCormack, 66, of Framingham, last Jan. 18, was opposed to bringing in a verdict which would mean death for the defendant, almost resulted in a mistrial today in Middlesex Superior Court.

The juror, Arthur H. Cote, of Lowell, ninth to be selected, had been taken to the jury room and two more members of the 14-man panel selected before Judge Paul G. Kirk was informed by a court officer of Cote's feelings.

He was brought back to the courtroom and Judge Kirk repeated the list of routine questions, coming finally to the query on his willingness to report a verdict of guilty which would mean death for the defendant.

Judge Kirk ordered him excused, called a bench conference the huddle continued in his lobby. When court resumed, Atty. Benjamin Chesky, court-appointed counsel for the defendant, announced he was satisfied Cote had not discussed the case with other jurors and that he would waive any legal rights he had in the matter.

Selection of a jury to replace Cote and three more to fill out the panel continued.

WORLD COTTON CROP

WASHINGTON, May 19 (INS)—The Agriculture Dept. estimated the world's cotton production for 1946-47 will total 21,500,000 bales, compared with an earlier estimate of 22,500,000 and a 1945-46 crop of 20,650,000.

The new BLUE CROSS PLAN will pay

THE ENTIRE HOSPITAL BILL FOR SEMI-PRIVATE ACCOMMODATIONS FOR 120 DAYS EACH ADMISSION

+ EVERY in-hospital service that a Participating Hospital customarily furnishes semi-private patients will be provided to Blue Cross Members—REGARDLESS OF COST

There are few hospital cases now that do not include laboratory examinations, drugs, X-rays and other special services. Modern hospital care makes use of every known method of finding out why you are ill. It also uses expensive new treatments to help you to get well more quickly.

Not even a physician can determine in advance just which services you will need if you become ill—or how much they will cost.

That is why Blue Cross provides all the services you need, rather than a limited cash payment.

For instance, a Blue Cross member would not have to pay one cent on a hospital bill like this.

Room and Board, 15 days	$133.00
Laboratory	24.75
Medications	22.45
Electro-cardiogram	6.00
X-rays	27.25
	$342.75

COMPARE your new Blue Cross membership with any other way of meeting today's unavoidably high cost of hospital care. Compare the services Blue Cross provides, the length of time that you are completely protected.

Blue Cross is the only plan that —Pays for ALL the hospital services you need.

—Pays for these services regardless of cost for 120 full days.

Blue Cross is easier to use —Your membership card does it. Blue Cross pays the hospital direct. You have no claim to file. You have no cash to pay—no money to borrow.

Complete hospital care—not cash —Limited cash allowances are worth less each day. But Blue Cross service benefits increase in value as hospital costs go up and as new, expensive methods of treatment are discovered.

Keep Skin Moist, Lovely

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE, Beauty and Fashion Editor

ONCE UPON A TIME cosmetics were considered a luxury . . . used by the leisurely gals who had no other responsibility. Today all women use cosmetics . . . in one form or another . . . because they are a necessity and because feminine appeal (no idle expression) is as important as eating.

With precious little time on our hands . . . we eye-to-the-future gals appreciate the value of keeping time off our faces. Shakespeare immortalized the rose . . . but we immortalize the face . . . which isn't just as sweet by any other name unless it actually looks true and fine, keen and clean, young and vibrant.

In this highly competitive world it is the well-groomed, attractively-appearing girl with the on-her-toe-facial look who gets the breaks . . . the eye and the job. Of course she must back up her claim of ability . . . but looking the part is half the battle. The gal who's smart but sloppy-looking has two strikes on her before she even gets the royal chance to prove her intrinsic and capable worth.

Even in the marriage arena it's the subtle-looking charmer who gets and keeps a husband. Keeping up appearance is as requisite after as before the "I do" ceremony. Marriage is no escape from looking or trying to look beautiful. The wife and mother who's always pleasing to the eye . . . good to look at because she takes her facial femininity seriously and sanely . . . has no fear of losing her romantic hold on the man who promised to "love and cherish" her and whose name she took in the bargain.

KEEPS SKIN LOVELY ALL THE TIME

That poised confidence is usually reflected in her manner of dress . . . her happy "at peace with life" coat of countenance . . . that ripened outlook on her own and the world at large. So don't sell that facial outlook short. Before you are able to establish social compatibility with a man . . . he must first be attracted to what he sees. And seeing is believing! Invested effort substantiated by specific and purposeful cosmetics usually pays off in handsome dividends. Few are the women who aren't susceptible to flattery . . . few are the women who don't like to hear compliments about their appearance.

If you would discover a way to turn "Father Time" back and recapture the lost art of looking like a lovely woman find it with a cream which is unique with its makers. It is a daytime cream that works every moment of the day to keep the skin lovely all the time. Its keynote is moisture. Use it overnight, if you like, also. Use it if you are young, too.

The un-youthful skin is parched and parched skin emphasizes lines and wrinkles . . . looks old before its time . . . cannot be hidden by makeup for its texture is always apparent. Since expression lines do not imprint themselves as sharply on a skin that is moist and pliable . . . faithful daily use of this cream . . . which can be used as a foundation, as well . . . imparts a radiant appearance to the skin.

Use it sparingly . . . and sparingly means an amount not more than can be picked up by touching the cream lightly with the fingertip. Use it on a clean face and skin-bled it until no cream remains visible on the surface. Then apply your makeup.

For the name of this unique, beautiful illusion cream, phone the Beauty Dept., Liberty 4000, any day except Sunday, or write to me, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Copyright, 1947, King Features Syndicate.

FOR THE GIRL who would avoid a beauty smashup induced by a parched and unyouthful skin and achieve the beautiful illusion of a dewy-fresh and petal-like complexion comparable to the compelling countenance of Susan Hayward . . . there is a daytime cream discovery which not only has a cosmetic way of turning back "Father Time" but preserving the moist mist of the youthful look.

Seems to Be Too Speedy

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: I am a young girl of 18, and recently I met a boy who says he is 21 and unmarried. I love him very much, and he says he loves me.

After seeing him a few times, his friends tell me he is married. At first, they said he was single. They keep changing all the time, and so I don't know what to believe. He says he is single and doesn't want any girl but me. What should I believe? I was always taught not to go with married men and I don't, if I know.

"WORRIED."

Dear "Worried":

If you girls just wouldn't be in so much of a hurry to say "I love you," you'd get into far fewer difficulties. There's nothing more foolish than for a girl to tell a man she loves him, and listen to his protestations of love, while she knows as little about him as you evidently do about this one.

I advise you to stop, look and listen very carefully before you go any further in this affair. No man with serious and sincere intentions toward a girl would permit such a situation as you describe to go on for a minute. If you really want to be on the safe side, you'll stop associating with him. I don't think you'll get anything but trouble out of playing around with him.

Cottons to the Front

By EILEEN CALLAHAN

THIS YEAR COTTONS have burst forth from their cocoon and are swirling around the fashion scene like so many pretty butterflies.

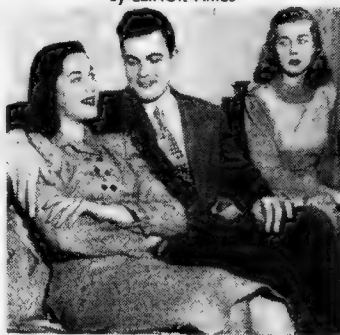

You will see cottons as romantic as the dresses worn by fairy tale princesses. Even the "little" cottons that slip so easily into a summer wardrobe have become important. Touched by the magic wand of fashion, they have blossomed into creations that will delight all who loved cotton, even in its dowdy days, for its cool comfort.

Claire McCardell has designed some beauties in this renaissance of cotton. The dress sketched today is from her collection. This dress has a shirred elasticized top cut low to bare pretty shoulders. The sleeves may be worn on or off the shoulder. Below the tight bodice, the skirt flares full to the new longer length. The old fashioned print comes in red, green or black.

The Correct Thing

By ELINOR AMES

PLEASE DON'T—Even if you are engaged or recently married, don't indulge in obvious displays of affection in public. (This means in the presence of your families, relatives or close friends as well as "public" in general.)

Barbecued or Fricasseed Duck Grand Spring Treat

By MARTHA LEE, Household Editor

ROAST DUCK may well hold the spotlight in family meals right now because prices are lower. And the young ducklings such as those in the market today are the only ones tender enough for roasting. But don't lose sight of the fact that roasting is not the only method of cooking that ducks take kindly to.

Have you ever tried barbecued duck? It's prepared just the same as when other poultry is used—broil under a flame until brown, and baste frequently with a spicy barbecue sauce.

Why not try a fricassee of duck some time? This is the way to prepare it:

FRICASSEED DUCK

1 duck
1 onion
1 cup, sliced
1 cup diced celery
1 bay leaf
Salt and pepper

Singe, wash, and remove oil sac. Peel off skin and fat from entire carcass. Disjoint, then divide breast into serving size pieces. Meanwhile, try out skin and fat over low fire. Dust meat with seasoned flour, fry in tried-out fat. Remove to covered casserole or roaster, sprinkle vegetables over meat, add 1/2-cup water and bake in moderately slow oven (325 deg. F.) until tender, about 2 hours. Shorten time about 1 hour for young birds. Add water during cooking, if necessary, to keep meat moist. Remove bay leaf before serving. Serve with boiled rice, fluffy mashed potatoes, or dumplings.

The neck, wings and giblets may be cooked separately in seasoned water until tender and the liquid and meat used for gravy or soup.

Incidentally, if you are bent on having roast duck, remember that there is no need to add fat to the stuffing because ducks themselves are quite fat. With the usual bread crumbs as a base, add such seasonings as celery, parsley, and onion.

A friend reminded us recently that duck and sauerkraut was a good combination. We haven't tried it, but perhaps some home-makers with a flare for experimenting may like to. This, of course, is a tested recipe:

CASSEROLE OF DUCK AND SAUERKRAUT

1 duck, cut up
1 large can or 1 qt. sauerkraut
1 cup water
1 medium onion
2 tbsp. sugar

Prepare the duck as suggested in the above recipe, and fry in the tried-out fat. Place in a covered casserole or roaster; place sauerkraut around and on top. Pour in water, bury onion inside (to be removed before serving preferably), and sprinkle sugar over top. Bake covered until tender, about 3 hours. Allow 1 pound of duck per person.

The citrus fruits, now plentiful, are natural with duck. Orange juice goes well in a sauce served with roast duck. So do canned grapefruit segments. Halves of oranges often ring the platter.

ROAST DUCK

Season clean bird on the inside; stuff if desired and truss. Roast on a rack in an open pan in a moderate oven (325 to 350 deg. F.) until tender, allowing 20 minutes per pound. Before and during roasting, prick skin with fork to let fat run out. This is the only exception to the rule that roasts should never be pricked with a fork. Add no water, and searing is unnecessary.

Another method removes the major part of fat before roasting. Place unstuffed bird in hot oven (375 to 400 deg. F.) for 20 to 30 minutes. Remove from oven; let stand until almost cool; pour out fat collected in pan. Return to oven and repeat process twice more if necessary. Then proceed to roast according to directions.

DARK under light is summer's subtle study in contrasts . . . with dark sheer stockings beneath light dresses and suits the featured look. Here we see Gotham's "shadow" . . . a deep taupe shade worn with Muriel King's halftone print . . . black, gray, sepi and white silk . . . in a body-fitting, hip-draped, bustle-backed dress. The lightness of the dress dropped against the darkness of limbs produces that important new look for the summer.—R. M.

ORANGE STUFFING FOR DUCK

3 cups dry bread crumbs
1 cup diced apples 1/2 tsp. sugar
1/4 cup seedless raisins
2-3 cup orange juice
Salt and pepper

Mix ingredients in order given and season to taste with salt and pepper. A little more or less liquid may be needed, depending on the dryness of the crumbs. Garnish the duck with watercress or parsley and with sections of orange dipped in a thick sugar syrup. Serve with the duck an orange sauce made by adding 1/2 cup of strained orange juice to 2 cups of gravy.

Snyder Called In Tax Cut Quiz

WASHINGTON, May 19 (AP)—Republican lawmakers hope to learn from Treasury Sec. Snyder today whether the Democratic Administration, openly opposing a tax slash now, might approve a general cut in levies in 1948.
GOP Congressmen also are looking for a definite hint from Snyder on whether his fellow Missourian and close friend, President Truman, intends to veto the $4,000,000,000 income tax reduction bill that may land on his desk soon.
With the Senate squared off for a party showdown on the House-approved tax cut, Snyder was billed as the first witness before the House Ways and Means committee at the opening of hearings on a general revision of the entire tax structure.
Chairman Knutson (R.) of Minnesota, of the tax-writing House group said the revision should result in substantial tax cuts next year, beyond the $4,000,000,000 measure now pending.

We want you to understand the reasons behind A&P's price situation.

Our policy during the past few years has been to keep prices as low as possible. If we were to operate our business without any profit at all, this cost would amount to a savings of less than 4 cents a day on the entire food bill of the average American family.

We sincerely believe that A&P has the lowest cost of distribution of any retail concern in the world. When you spend $10.00 in an A&P store, you're getting more of food and less of profit. A saving of about 10 percent would mean that you could get the same food for only 90 cents.

Many of our customers have pointed out that we're not doing as well as we should. It's true, we're not. But we're not doing as well as we should because we're not doing as well as we should.

While many food prices have already been reduced, we must recognize that no substantial general reduction in food prices is possible until the cost of food is reduced.

As you know, A&P's business has been built on the policy of selling quality food at the lowest possible price.

We pledge to our customers strict adherence to that policy. We will continue to lower our prices as fast as reductions in costs to us and economies in our operations permit.

Prices effective at A&P Self-Service stores in this area. Subject to market changes.

"I wuz thinkin'..."

by Izzy Ort

A little while ago I wuz in a mood to whip out my banjo and chirp a song about the wonderful weather in May becuz I'm very susceptible to good weather, especially when a nice, cool breeze percolates thru the grand stand and blows torn up tickets around. There I go—dreamin' about daily double! Well, it sure is great to have good weather even tho the straw hat season got off to a bum start. I wuz gonna get a straw skimmer but I postponed it until I see whether we're gonna have summer or not. Last week's frost kinda disillusioned me. I ain't lookin' fer no heat waves becuz they empty my place right onto L Street an' Dorchester Bay an then I win nothin'! I'm out to win a point tho on this matter. I think it's about time somebody wid connections started demandin' that Boston be made a home port for some of the big ships the Navy has got. Today, they're puttin' in mostly at Newport and Norfolk an' honestly, the guys on them ships is complainin' these places is too far from my Grille. A guy just can't make my place an' be back in Norfolk in one evenin'. It ain't right. Wen they does hit town they always say they're in 'dry dock at Izzy Ort's' an' it's a standard expression. This shows ya how high in their esteem I'm settin'! That's becuz they claim the gayest, gay afternoon an' night spot in town is Ort's Grille, 25 Essex St., Boston—Adv.

Smart Set Farley Betrothal

By BETTY ALDEN

A NOTE FROM former Postmaster General and Mrs. James A. Farley of New York announces the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth Mary, to Glenn D. Montgomery of Arlington, Va.

Betty attended Marymount School and graduated from Wellesley College. During her undergraduate days she took part in many social activities in Boston.

Mr. Montgomery is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Montgomery. He graduated from Montana State University and is an electrical engineer. During the war he served in the Army Air Forces—Army Airways Communications System in both the European and Pacific theaters. He was released with the rank of lieutenant colonel.

No date has been set for the wedding.

IN AN ATTRACTIVE garden party setting amidst flowering shrubs and colorful tulip beds, several hundred visitors will be served a tasty luncheon at Mrs. George Lyons' lovely estate adjoining The Country Club in Brookline Wednesday.

The luncheon is part of the all-day plant sale sponsored by the New England Farm and Garden Association featuring sturdy annuals and an assortment of unusual herb plants. Tables will be covered with gayly striped Belgian linen runners and during luncheon there will be a fashion show presented by Mrs. F. Reed Estabrook and Mrs. L. Gould Newell.

Modelling a colorful array of summer prints, evening gowns and cottons will be a prominent group of society women, including Mrs. Chandler Hovey and her daughters-in-law, Mrs. Chandler Hovey, Jr., and Mrs. Charles Hovey, Mrs. Gilbert Horrax, Mrs. Edwin Cave, Mrs. John Gardner, Mrs. Charles F. Rowley, Mrs. George B. Aldrich, Virginia Hood and Katharine Hill.

The luncheon menu is planned around delicious individual French pies homemade by Mrs. Leland Powers' luncheon committee from a recipe in the famous Gordon Bleu cookbook.

Another appealing charity and an unusually beautiful garden is the combination that will lure many city folk out to Milton Thursday when Mrs. Theodore E. Brown is opening her fern and azalea gardens at the height of their spring beauty. Only admission will be a bundle of saleable articles for the Thrift Shop at 90 Huntington ave., run by an enterprising committee of socialites to benefit several charities including the Children's Hospital.

Assisting Mrs. Brown in serving tea on the terrace after the garden tour will be her daughter, Mrs. George P. Sturges, Miss Elizabeth Leland, Mrs. Paul R. Withington, Mrs. Alexander H. Ladd, Mrs. John W. Hollowell and Mrs. Laurence H. H. Johnson. Mrs. R. Holton Shearer of the Thrift Shop committee will be on hand to collect bundles, together with Mrs. Charles Pettit, Mrs. Maxwell MacDonald and Mrs. W. DeFord Beal. Mrs. Edwin Cave and Mrs. Arthur Allen will guide visitors through the woody garden paths.

MEAT TAKEN FROM THROAT
Francis J. Gaigay of Cambridge, Cambridge, was visiting relatives in North Quincy when a piece of meat lodged in his throat at the dinner table. It was removed at the Quincy City Hospital.

This is a Monday post mortem to be sure. Still, with a little more audacity the Red Sox could have played their Sunday games and accommodated some 20-odd thousand people who churned through the spillways of the park and in Jersey st. Thousands had come from a distance. And anyway what did the Sox have to lose by holding off their cancellation till game-time or a half hour later?

Two weeks ago the Braves faced a Sunday drizzle and a low, swirling mist which lay like gray wool over the field. The playing surface resembled a Japanese rice paddy. The turf was a hog wallow with little brooks bubbling along the edges of the canvas cover. Yet Prexy Perini delayed postponement and sent out his ground crew to manicure the sod. It was still drizzling when he opened his gates and admitted some 15,000 clients. After an hour's delay the double-header began and everybody was happy.

The situation yesterday was identical. But the games were called prematurely although by 1:45 the skies were dry. It disgruntled a host of people.

REVELATION FROM SUFFOLK DOWNS that Sun Flame, winner of a $2500 claiming race Thursday which paid $11 in a race that handled $90,879, was "dynamited," revivifies argument for placing the steeds in a receiving barn before race time. Dog men at Wonderland boast that by incarcerating the animals in the Jenny Pit two hours before post time there is no way to hop up a greyhound to unnatural speed. They admit, however, that by artful use of puckering powders and slow physics a hound may be weakened without detection during the two-hour probation. A receiving barn, under rigid control of the State Police, would net the same protection at Suffolk.

"SUPPOSE," I SAID TO BILL Southworth in the Braves' clubhouse recently, "a baseball lawyer should walk in and say 'Now sir! I hear you have pennant delusions. Will you settle for a guarantee of second place and sign a quit claim right now?'" Bill continuing slitting the throats of his morning mail with a broad thumb. "No!" he said. "We'll prosecute. There's nothing behind first place."

Billy is there today with a club which was rated woefully weak at bat during the southern sun-tan period and which, astonishingly, is carrying the heaviest artillery in the league to date. Boy tear up that writ of nolo contendere! Dig out the file of 1916 precedents!

Representative Adolph J. Sabath of Illinois wants to crowd a lottery measure through Congress. Sabath moves on the theory that the people, having some loose cash and being of mind to give it a romp, will gamble, whether lawfully or otherwise. He avers that, if the public wishes to have its spare cash soaked up, the government is in position to do the job more mercifully than the slinky characters and human weasels who are now doing most of it.

AMONG THE "ASTOUNDING AND INCREDIBLE aggregation of marvels" now on view at Ringling Bros. circus is a 700-pound, ash-colored monster that is sure to make Papa Paul Bowser's eyes leak envy, for Pere Paul could renovate his wrestling business with Gargantua's size, heft, agility and facial contortions. Gargy could wring out of Pere Paul's mat anthropoids with a single airplane whirl. Not until today did I realize the significance of the late Arthur Brisbane's remark after the Baer-Carnera fight. Mr. Brisbane had pinched his nostrils and said, "What did it prove? A gorilla could lick 'em both."

That is the purest understatement. As Gargy strips down to his fuzzy buff, he could whip the entire division of heavyweight pugs, all at once, plus half of the middleweights thrown in—as sly, vicious and lethal a beast as ever sent icicles down a spine. Yet Gargy has his weakness too. As I watched his keeper, wishful to do a job of sanitary work inside the cage, brought in a king snake, a six foot serpent as black and shiny as a boot. He inserted its wriggling coils under the bars, holding tight to its tail. On the instant the snarling, chest-thumping gorilla turned into a palsied, shaking hulk which groveled and blubbered like a whipped puppy in the far corner of his cage. Then a helper slid a partition of bars in place while the keeper entered the vacated portion and did his chamber work.

I AM OFFERING THIS perfectly priceless plan to Harvard, winner of Saturday's Nonagonal track games, for its future meets. It's such a simple idea that I marvel that the Lampon's brain trusters didn't stumble on it first. Here it is: All Harvard needs to do to jam a capacity mob into its stadium for all track games is to mount a totalizer board on the rim of its steel stands, run up a row of parimutuel booths and let the customers make book on the athlete's wind and limb.

SPEAKING OF WARREN SPAHN'S six straight victories for the Braves brings to memory the wry-necked, angular gent with a patent leather hair comb who when I last heard of him was clerking behind Suffolk Downs' ticket wickets. Rube Marquand claims he won 20 in a string for the New York Giants in 1912, although the record books cut him down to a wizzling 19. Rube mentions a game at the Polo Grounds against the Phillies and its alleged date. But a search of the files of that period shows that the contest was approximately as Rube described, except that he was not in the lineup.

Mele of Sox, Tigers' Mullen Resume Jobs in Right at Fens

By HERB FINNEGAN

Right fielders were in the spotlight at Fenway today as Red Sox and Tigers opened a three-game series with a double-header. Joe Cronin returned Sam Mele to his post in the Sox sunfield. A back injury has kept the rookie sensatio nside in Detroit's sunfield.

Funny thing, but neither Mele nor Mullen was sure of his job until the eve of the season's opener. Mele's story is familiar, how after a series of ups and downs he broke into the lineup at Kingsport, Tenn., on the way north from Sarasota. His debut was memorable—five hits including two home runs. Yet he didn't clinch his job until the city series.

Nor did Mullen. The Tigers, like the Red Sox, had a lengthy array of right fielders in training at Lakeland, Fla.—Clint Conaster, Viz Wertz, Jack Groth, Anse Moore, Earl Rapp, Jimmy Outlaw, Ed Mierkiewicz and Co.

Personable Patrick had to bide his time. To be true, he had been outstanding in '41 when he replaced Army-bound Hank Greenberg in May. He batted .345 until he broke his shoulder in a July night game at Comiskey Park. "Another Cobb," they said. But he didn't play another game until full years in the service until '46. Used in-and-out fashion, he batted only .246.

"He left it in the Army," and "his broken shoulder ruined him," was the consensus, so Pat didn't get much attention in the windy Southland last spring. In fact, when Detroit came to Sarasota to play the Sox, Mullen was sent with the "B" squad to Bradenton to play against Louisville. Rage of the Tigers' camp at the time was first baseman George Vics and it was common talk that Steve O'Neill would go with the rookie at first and return Roy Cullenbine to right field.

So Mullen, like Mele, didn't get his shot until the Tigers started North with the Braves. Like Mele again, he was hot from the start but even then Detroit's oldest writer pleaded with Steve O'Neill, via Sporting News, to dunk his Wakefield-Evers-Mullen trio in favor of Outlaw-Cramer-Wertz. O'Neill stuck to his guns and hasn't been sorry. Mullen is leading the league with a .413 average. Of his 33 hits, 14 have been doubles, six home runs. Twenty hits for extra bases. But as late as the Sox' last visit to Detroit (April 29-30) Mullen, who bats left-handed, was yanked in favor of Outlaw against southpaw Mel Parnell.

He isn't being yanked today. He bats equally well against both types of pitching as his .500 mark against southpaws attests.

Mullen's batting alone doesn't keep him in the lineup. At 23, he gets down to first as fast as anybody in the league, and nobody ever accused him of loafing. In the field—well, here's a play Eddie Pellagrini will long remember: Sox leading 2-1 in the sixth behind Hughson. More runs needed. Pellagrini leads off with a line drive that clears the head of center fielder Evers. It is headed for the 379-foot fence in right center. Sure triple, possibly a homer.

Mullen must have been playing Pelly to pull because he raced from nowhere to backhand the ball as it was about to hit or clear the low wall. Catches like that rip the heart out of a team, and sure enough the Tigers whipped Hughson with a four-run seventh.

Mullen and extraordinarily good pitching have kited the Tigers to first place, two games ahead of the Sox. No other Tiger was hitting a lick until Evers and Kell came to life a week back. Even today, Lake Cullenbine and Mayo are below .200 and Wakefield is around .250. So you can see, if it wasn't for Mullen, the Sox would be leading the league.

Big Four Deliver for Tigers

Difference between Detroit and Red Sox pitching: 15 of Detroit's 16 victories have been won by their big four—Newhouse, Trout, Hutchinson, Trucks. Other win was registered by relief man Hal White who turned starter today.

Red Sox have won 15 games. Their big four (Hughson, Ferris, Dobson, Harris) have accounted for only six victories. Dorsh has won three, Johnson two, Zuber one in relief. Sox starters don't finish.

Like Luke Appling, Doc Cramer is an ageless wonder. Nearing 41, he still can play a fine game in center field, but is shining instead as a pinch-hitter. Behold his record this year: four hits in seven AB's, six RBI. His latest contribution was a two-run hit with the bases loaded to give Dixie Trout victory in the 14th over the A's.

Detroit is doing much better in the league race than at the gate. This was the third Sunday they've been rained out—once at home, last five and was seeking his sixth straight today.

Detroit writers admit the club must strengthen the right side of its infield if the Tigers are to figure in the race. They figure the Red Sox will repeat their '46 victory, as does Muddy Ruel, because of "balance." But the Sox hitters must take up the slack caused by their sub-standard pitching.

Mickey Harris reports his arm rapidly getting stronger. He may be "sprung" against the Yankees in New York week-end. He used to tame the New Yorkers last year.

Sox officials held off until the last minute before putting over Sunday's twin bill to today. So many thousands of fans were storming the park that gates were opened before 1 o'clock. Ten minutes later came another deluge. The field became unplayable. Had they tried, they would have been accused of being "hungry" and would have risked serious injury to the players, especially the outfielders.

This is a most testing week for the Sox: Three games with Tigers, two with Cleveland, then four singles in four days with the Yanks in New York without a day off. All three opponents shape like first division clubs, and they'll be out to tar and feather the Sox. Detroit didn't win a game in Boston until their fourth trip last year. "We won the pennant for you," said Mgr. O'Neill.

Cesario Duels Peterson in Arena Ring

A willing fighter from Billings, Mont., Cowboy Billy Peterson, will be up against a master boxer tonight in Johnny Cesario, New England welterweight champion, in the main bout offered by the Callahan A. C. at the Arena.

Peterson has made a good impression by his tactics during his gym workouts but whether he can prevail against the nifty Cesario is a question.

The preliminary card tonight has one eight and three six-rounders to balance the card.

The first six-rounder will be on its way at 8:30.

Cowboy Billy Peterson, Billings, Mont., vs. Johnny Cesario, North End 110, Jimmy McLean, Toledo, O. vs. Johnny Lima, Miami, Fla. (Latter vs. Harold Christenson, Hyde Park, vs. Charlie Nichols, Philadelphia, vs. Eddie Gilard, Philadelphia, vs. Marcella LaChapelle, Montreal 10, Dick Hawke, Manchester, Ct., vs. Ralph Regan, Medford 10).

Foreign Ring Stars Coming

DUBLIN, May 19 (AP)—Europe's 16-nation amateur boxing championships ended in Dublin's National Stadium Saturday night with fighters of eight countries winning titles.

These new champions from Spain, Britain, Ireland, Sweden, Holland, Belgium, Hungary and France, are scheduled to leave Shannon Airport early today for New York en route to Chicago where, on May 28, they will meet an American amateur boxing team in a world Golden Gloves tournament.

Momentarily there is a doubt about bantamweight champion Lou Bogacs (Hungary) being able to make the trip. He has not yet received permission from Hungarian authorities to leave Europe.

Fall Sports Night For Corcoran

Braves Field will be the scene of major league activity next Sunday, but in the evening the spotlight will move toward Fenway Park. Close by, at the Pen-nant Grill, the ushers of Fenway Park and Braves Field will stage a sports night, proceeds of which will go to the family of the late Gerry Corcoran.

Gerry was chief usher at Braves Field and assistant to Joe Connolly at Fenway. Returning to his winter job at the Navy Yard, he was killed in an accident on Christmas Eve.

Since then, his family has lost its home by fire and is now faced with medical expenses.

Fall River Soccer Team Qualifies

TIVERTON, R. I., May 19 (AP)—With right forward Joe Gero scoring two goals the Pontia Del-gadas of neighboring Fall River, Mass., yesterday defeated the Gremio Lusitanos of Ludlow, Mass., 5-0, to qualify for the Eastern quarter finals in soccer's National Challenge Cup series.

The Lusitanos defeated the Pontias 2-1 last week but the New England representative was decided on total goals in the two-game series.

In the "Easterns" the Pontias will play a team yet to be selected in the New York area.

Downs Stimulation Hearing Set

Stewards at Suffolk Downs will have Trainer W. E. "Wag" Collins and Groom John Himmelreich up for a hearing tomorrow at 10 a. m. to investigate the stimulation of Sun Flame, the Rosenthal Stable thoroughbred State Police have charged was "hopped up" before winning a six-furlong race May 15 and paying its backers at a rate of 9 to 2.

Collins and Himmelreich have been suspended. Their appearance before the stewards tomorrow will mark the first time in nine years such a case has been pressed at Suffolk.

State Police Chemist Joseph T. Walker, who made the analysis of urine taken from Sun Flame, found evidence the horse—which had closed favorite—had been given "a stimulant of the nature of benzedrine," according to the Downs management and the State Racing Commission.

The penalty for such an act, as stipulated by the state law authorizing punishment for betting on horses and dogs, is $5,000, or a year in prison, or both.

Procedure of the stewards will be to forward a report of their hearing to the State Racing Commission, which may then take action to bring charges under the law.

Sun Flame has run five times at the present Suffolk meeting. It finished second April 18, sixth April 24, sixth again May 1, first May 8 and first again last Thursday.

The horse is owned by Mrs. L. Rosenthal of Brooklyn. Neither Collins nor Himmelreich has previously been called before racing stewards in a case of stimulation. Tomorrow's hearing will be closed to the public. It is not known whether Mrs. Rosenthal will be present.

The stimulation of Sun Flame was the first positive case to be uncovered by State Police since they were assigned to surveillance of the entire racing plant, including the stables, this year. They now have a mobile field laboratory, purchased by the track, for saliva and urine tests.

Exactly how or when Sun Flame's win became a matter of official suspicion was not disclosed today but the horse, like all other winners at Suffolk, was subjected to examination immediately after breezing home in front.

44 Leading Braves Await Tomorrow's Pirate Tilt

By BILL GRIMES

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 19—Minus their manager, the Braves, who remained in first place by splitting a double-header with the Reds yesterday in Cincinnati, arrived here only this morning.

Manager Billy Southworth went to his Maybury, O., home last night and will not rejoin the club until tomorrow. In Southworth's absence, coach Johnny Cooney is in charge and will hold a practice session today at Forbes Field.

Although the record for this trip is five wins against six defeats, the Braves are the pace-setters of the National League race by a margin of a half game over the New York Giants. Today is an open date and if the Cubs square their series with the Dodgers this afternoon and then take a fall out of the Blue Jays of Philadelphia tomorrow, the Braves will have lost a half interest in the No. 1 spot before meeting the Pirates tomorrow night.

The National League race is a nip and tuck, knock-down and drag-out affair. The Giants have been the hottest club in the league since they left home. They took two straight from the Cardinals, three in a row from the Cubs, and after suffering their first setback in the opening game yesterday, they came right back and beat the Pirates in the nightcap, giving them a six out of seven games trip to date.

The Tribe should have taken both games yesterday from the Reds. Mort Cooper pitched exceptionally well; the Reds were credited with ten hits but one was a "blow" two-bagger, which Dick Culler should have gathered in, and three others should have been scored as errors. A throw into center field by Phil Masi set the stage of the Reds to tie the game in the 8th and then Benny Zientara and Eddie Miller greeted Cooper with doubles in the 9th, which put across the winning run.

Cincinnati is by far the weakest club in the league. Manager Johnny Neun is going to have a rough season trying to win with that aggregation. He has only fair pitching, a mediocre defensive club and no power other than that supplied by Eddie Miller. Just as soon as the Cardinals get straightened away, which they should in the near future, the Reds will drop into the cellar and remain there for the duration of the campaign.

Johnny Sain, who came west with three wins and one defeat but is now three-three, will make his third start of the trip tomorrow night against the Pirates. Sain hasn't pitched well since he shut out Pittsburgh at Braves Field. He has been wild and has been resorting too much to side arm pitches. He walked three and six Cards in four and five innings respectively. The Ottem reached him for seven hits and five runs and the world's champions belted him for five, which coupled with his walks, produced four tallies.

Manager Southworth counted on Sain to set the victory pace for Braves pitchers but the big right-hander has let him down. My hunch is that Sain has been experimenting with a couple of pitches, which have brought on his downfall.

If Sain is able to display the form he did when he pitched against the Pirates at home, the Braves will return to the Hub in first place which will be unique, at least, for a Boston National League entry.

BRAVES NOTES

Dick Culler wasn't as impressive against the Reds as he was on Saturday in St. Louis. Could be that his ankle is not as strong as he claims it is. He was slow breaking on balls and, moreover, he should have thrown out Tom Tatum, who scored the tying run in the eighth inning of the first game.

Connie Ryan was spiked twice in the opener yesterday and Danny Murtaugh went to second base in the nightcap. It was Danny's initial start of the season but he acted and played as though he had been in there every day. In fact, it was Mr. Murtaugh, who saved the game. He made three plays each of which snuffed out scoring threats.

After going "15 for 0," Bob Elliott snapped out of his slump. He singled to drive in the Braves' lone run of the first game and then beat out a bunt and tripled home an important marker in the second contest.

Eddie Miller had a fine day yesterday both afield and at bat. He doubled in the winning run in the first game and then made two of the five hits "Red" Barrett gave up to the Reds.

Southern Cal. Looms Like '47 Champ

FRESNO, Cal., May 19 (AP)—Track and field experts, using the West Coast relays as a yardstick, were convinced today that the potential 1947 national champion is the University of Southern California.

Dean Cromwell's undefeated Trojans, whose record includes a dual meet victory over the powerful University of Illinois, scored the 15th annual team title for Southern California here Saturday night. The count was 553-6 and the points were racked up in the face of outstanding competition—the best in the state.

The University of California at Los Angeles took second in the scramble for team points—425-6—with Stanford showing unexpected strength to garner 28 points for third. San Jose State College picked up 26 points, while the University of California brought up the rear among the big contenders with 18½.

Southern California presented balanced strength in the relay events, picked up points in various field competitions and its ace sprinter easily ran off with the 100-yard dash in 9.5 seconds. It was the third time this season Mel Patton had been clocked in this time.

Out-of-Staters On South End Bill

Four out-of-state fighters will be among the amateur boxers seeking Diamond Ring honors at Mechanics Bldg. Thursday night when the South End A. C., under the direction of Fred Russo, will conduct the finals in its tournament—bringing back the winners of the four sets of eliminations. The out-of-staters will be Joe Nocci, Providence, R. I., featherweight; Steve Mardella, Providence, lightweight; John Camino, New Haven, Ct., welterweight, and Rocky Mello, Pawtucket, R. I., light-heavyweight.

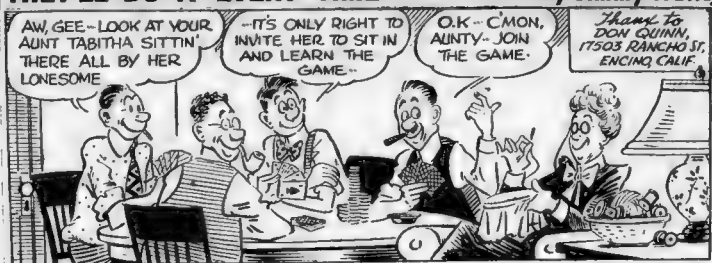

Three New England champions will also be on the card—Sheldon Seavy, Haverhill, in the 126's; Fred Small, Cambridge, in the 147's, and Joe Brown, North Abington, in the heavyweight division. Competition will be in all classes from the 118's to heavyweight.

Decline to Give New Track More Dates

By DAVE WILSON

There's a move still afoot to have Suffolk Downs, Narragansett Park and Rockingham Park curtail their respective racing dates this season so as to make room for a meeting at Lincoln Downs, the modern track under construction at Rhode Island... Suffolk Downs recently rejected a proposition that each of the three major tracks give up 12 days to Lincoln Downs.

With competition in the form of Pascagoue out of the way, and better weather in the offing, the mutual play at Suffolk Downs continues to mount... Last Saturday's "handle" of $1,638,203 was the largest of the current meeting and it brought the 26-day total to $24,964,807, for a daily average of $960,184... At its present rate, Suffolk Downs seems destined to finish up its 38-day meeting with an average handle of better than $1,000,000.

Tom Haskos, the handsome Greek, hasn't saddled a single winner since last fall at Rockingham Park, but you'd never know it from his beaming countenance... Haskos points out that the majority of his charges are approaching peak form after being sidelined with injuries and opines that they will be entering the winner's circle with marked regularity before long.

Lincoln Downs will be completed in ample time to stage its inaugural meeting of 42 days which is scheduled to get under way on July 7, according to Eddie Mack, director of public relations at the new race track... The ace tub thumper, who was a visitor or last week at Suffolk Downs, stated that work on the modern track is a full month ahead of schedule and that contractors expect to have the job completed by May 30.

According to Mack, Lincoln Downs has secured permission from the Civilian Production Administration to erect four barns... Eddie added: The new stables will be used as receiving barns for the horses which will be quartered at Pascagoue and possibly Narragansett Park.

"No excuse." That was Trainer Herb Fisher's crisp comment on Andys Glory's failure to finish in the purse used last Saturday's running of Juvenile Stakes at Belmont Park when he arrived back at Suffolk Downs yesterday morning... According to Fisher, Andys Glory is to be immediately returned to Suffolk Downs.

Black Duck on Way Back Says State Director

By "TAP" GOODENOUGH

Local duck hunters certainly had their innings last week, for two waterfowl conferences were conducted at the Gardner Auditorium of the State House, the first by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, and the second sponsored by the Massachusetts Waterfowlers' Ass'n. Inc. in conjunction with the State Conservation Dept. Attendees at both gatherings, we found that the latter aimed at the specific interests of New England hunters, while the former was chiefly national in scope.

At the Mass. Waterfowlers' conference, State Ornithologist Joseph Hagar issued this cheering statement: "There is no black duck crisis in New England; the population has merely undergone a normal lowering, and the birds will come back of their own accord."

Mr. Hagar brought out several important facts and figures concerning the black ducks and Canadian geese, which are New England's key species. He estimated that game ducks in this region number about 250,000 at present, plus a large amount of scoters, bringing the total to around 550,000 feathered targets. Close to 10,000 blacks are raised each year in the Bay State with the kill figured at from 15,000 to 30,000, of which one-third are locally-raised birds, the rest migrators. It is his belief that we are visited by 36,000 Canadian geese annually.

"The bulk of black ducks in New England breed in Canada," declared Mr. Hagar. "These birds do not go south of Long Island in the winter. The ducks on Cape Cod come from Nova Scotia, and 90 per cent winter there, Essex County birds migrate from Quebec areas, winter in Narragansett Bay and the east end of Long Island. There were about 40 per cent less blacks in this vicinity last fall, but that's still twice as many as there were in 1934. Hard winters cause the decline."

The Mass. Waterfowlers have "fueled" with the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service ever since live duck and goose decoys were outlawed—but the Ass'n hopes to bring back the decoys, and also questions some of the Service figures on the so-called "duck crisis." Other speakers included Pres. Fred Gardner, of Rockland; Harry Darling, pres. of the Plym-

Cheers

David Jones, 7-year-old Gotham youngster, was cheered immeasurably when Spud Chandler, Yankees' ace pitcher, paid him a visit in St. Joseph's Hospital and gave him a bat, ball and baseball cap.
